Brother of Mexia Man Killed By Mexican Bandits

Horn-Kendrick

No more brilliant, nor beautiful, nor impressive, nor happier wedding affair has ever charmed those who looked on through eyes of love, affection, friendship and hope than that of last Saturday evening, at the home of the bride, when Mr. Val Horn and Miss Christine Kendrick of this city were united by holy wedlock's sacred ties.

The imagination in its flight could not have conceived of a prettier setting than that presented by the new and magnificent home on Canton street, where Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Kendrick, parents of the bride reside, which was decorated for the occasion, by Mrs. J. W. Elliott and Miss Dasa Ellington and other close friends of the family who had prepared with loving hands the altar which should mark the spot so momentous in the lives of the principals in the wedding. Every nook and corner of the home, too, was given the deft touch which transformed the naturally lovely home into one lovelier still for the eventful hour. Green and lavendar predominated in the decorations.

Probably two hundred guests were present at the nuptials ceremony, enlivening the brilliant scene with that animation of joyous men, women and children who were to witness the union of a charming young lady and an esteemed young business man of this community.

Many social affairs had been given during the weeks immediately preceding the marriage occasion, wherein the bride was the honor guest, who was thus made to know, probably more than ever, that her home community was a community of friends who loved her and who wished for her royal happiness throughout life's pilgrimage with her chosen mate. Among these, at the home of Mrs. Gene Sinclair, Mrs. Sinclair and Mrs. C. E. Petty entertained in her honor, giving a miscellaneous shower. Misses Dasa and Beth Ellington, at their home, also gave a bridge party at which she was the honoree, followed by another at the home of Mrs. Rome Rust who was assisted by Mrs. W. M. White, Jr.

At the door, the gleeful guests were met by the hospitable mother of the bride, assisted by Mesdames Gene Sinclair, J. W. Elliott, Rush Allison, Emile Nussbaum, J. W. Lanning, Weems Craig and Misses Rosellen Sadler, Corinne and Elsie Desenberg and Dasa Ellington. The latter presided at the bride's book, which was signed by scores who thus attested their presence and best wishes.

The house guests for the marriage were seated in the large and handsome living room, before whose mantel, the altar had been provided, immediately to the right of the altar. They were: Parents of the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Kendrick and Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Horn, of Dallas, respectively; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kendrick and Mr. and Mrs. Nat Kendrick, of Duncan, Oklahoma, Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Kendrick of Waco, Mr. and Mrs. K. S. Black and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Black all of Thornton, uncles and aunts of the bride; Miss Lucille Clark, a niece of the groom, of Fort Worth, and Miss Effie Connon Barron of Thornton, and Mrs. Lois Childs of Waco. Also grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Black of Thornton.

At 8 o'clock promptly, Mr. George Pollard, "Uncle" accompanied by Miss Beth Ellington at the piano. Then when Mendelssohn's wedding march was begun, immediately thereafter, all eyes turned to the stairway, down which the two gentlemen and boy in double time. They were Jacob Sinclair, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Sinclair, and Harold Kendrick, brother of the bride. They were clad in dark blue coats and white trousers, shoes and sox. With due regard for the importance of their duty and privilege, they lined the aisle to the altar with ropes of smilax, taking their places properly at the end of their slow journey.

The matrons, Mrs. Rome Rust, and Mrs. W. M. White, next appeared in the order named. Both carried shepherd crooks, tied with lavendar toule covered peas and maiden hair ferns, Mrs. Rust wore a green beaded georgette gown and Mrs. White, Jr., a lavendar beaded gown.

The Maids were Misses Maurine and Laura Kendrick of Duncan, Oklahoma, cousins of the bride. They too carried shepherd crooks. Miss Maurine Kendrick was attired in lavendar georgette and creme lace and Miss Laura Kendrick in green georgetee. All wore silver bandeaus on their hair.

The Matron of honor was Mrs. Nick Miller of Cisco, who next appeared, in lavendar georgette with pearl and gold beads. She carried a shower boquet of Kilarney roses, maiden hair ferns and lavendar and sweet peas.

Immediately after her appeared Miss Franchelle Jackson of Corsicana, Maid of Honor, who carried a similar shower boquet and was dressed in a gown of gold lace.

The ring bearer followed. He was little Joe Kendrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Kendrick of Waco. He was attired in white stain, with shoes and sox to correspond, all becomingly set off with a windsor tie. On a white satin pillow he carried the ring which was upheld in the heart of a rose by stemens of pearl.

At the side door, leading to a room used for the occasion for the wedding gifts, next appeared the groom, accompanied by Ross Brown of Waco, who served as best man. Both were attired in Tuxedos.

The flower girl next appeared on the scene. She was little Miss Jeanelle Walton, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Walton of this city, and all agreed she was a perfect little darling, in her dress of white net and lace and with silver braided slippers, trimmed in lavendar and green georgette roses. In her arms she carried a pink and lavendar basket, from which she distributed rose petals in the pathway of the oncoming bride.

The bride appeared at the head of the stairs, on the arm of her brother, W. B. Kendrick, Jr. She was a vision of rare southern beauty, gowned in a white georgette veil over white satin, beaded with pearls and rhinestones and over her head, becomingly fell a veil net, with orange blossoms and a shower of orange blossoms. On her arm she carried a shower of bride's roses, lillies of the valley and maiden hair ferns. White stain slippers brocaded with silver completed the lovely picture she presented.

Mr. Kendrick was attired as other men of the party.

Jack Lanning, followed the bride as train bearer, attired in a white stain suit with shoes and sox to correspond, performing his services in a perfect manner. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lanning of this city.

Rev. G. T. Reaves, pastor of the First Christian church performed the wedding ceremony, the ring service being used, in a most impressive manner, lending solemnity to the vows there taken. Miss Beth Ellington throughout the ceremony, played a medley of love songs, dying slowly away, as the benediction was pronounced, after the bride and groom had been united as man and wife.

The Altar was immediately in front of the hand-some mantel, banks of ferns, and flowers in profusion giving the scene the gorgeous beauty of Springtime. Palms were placed within the banks and Easter lillies added to the scene. On the sides were pedestals of carnations and lillies of the valley and tall candlelabraes holding up white candle sticks. Over all winged as if on an eternal flight was suspended the Dove of Peace and lovers' knot, which rested just above the bride during the ceremony.

The arch at the foot of the stars, of bamboo and wisteria; the three green and lavendar wedding bells, at the entrance to the altar room, clustered in a group over the doorway; the decorations carrying out the general scheme of lavendar and green; the dining room where the bride's cake was cut immediately after the ceremony; the guests book in the reception room; and the gift room were other features that attracted the interest and admiration of those gathered.

Following congratulations extended to the newly wedded couple, Miss Rosellen Sadler of Corsicana presided when the bride's cake was cut. Refreshments of lavendar and white angels food squares were served, following which the bride went to the head of the stairway and threw down her boquet which was caught by Miss Cathereene McGrail who tendered it with congratulations to Mrs. W. B. Kendrick, mother of the bride.

The gift room contained a large assortment of gifts, which were tendered by loved ones and friends. The entire room was filled with these evidences of high regard, from friends from all walks and stations of life, appreciated deeply by the happy receivers of so many good things.

Miss Beth Ellington wore an orchid and silver lace dress; Miss Dasa Ellington, gold lace over blue metal cloth; Mrs. Gene Sinclair, yellow beaded georgette, Mrs. J. W. Elliott, lavendar lace; Mrs. Rush Allison, orchid beaded georgetee, Mrs. Emile Nussbaum, blue beaded georgette, Mrs. J. W. Lanning, georgetee, Mrs. Weems Craig pink chiffon and metal cloth; Miss Rosellen Sadler, peach and silver lace over peach satin; Miss Corinne Desenberg flesh beaded georgette over yellow satin.

Mrs. W. B. Kendrick wore handsome grey georgette over grey satin and beaded with steel cut beads and a pink and lavendar corsage.

Mrs. S. B. Horn, mother of the groom, was attired in lovely dark canton crepe.

Among the gifts not included in the gift room was a deed to the home, formerly occupied by the parents of the bride, at 306 South Kaufman street, where they will be at home within the next ten days.

Following the reception, the bride and groom and wedding party left for Waco, and on Sunday, from which point, Mr. and Mrs. Horn left for San Antonio where, according to messages since received they are spending their honeymoon.

The bride wore a going away suit green charmene with channelle overblouse, hat to match and gray shoes and gloves.

Friends accompanying them to Waco, by automible, were Ross Brown, John Corley, Mrs. Nick Miller, Lois Childs and Beth Ellington.

Washington Is Told of Texas Lottery By Dawkins

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Senate investigators of Attorney General Daugherty today hunted facts concerning charges that the Department of Justice refused to prosecute lottery concerns in Texas, despite repeated reports to Washington that the law is being violated. T. D. Dawkins, postal inspector of Dallas, testified that Federal District AttorneyZweifel failed to prosecute the United Home Builders of America without direct orders from Washington. He said the assistant attorney general rendered an opinion that with certain changes operations of other companies engaged in similar activities were satisfactory to the postoffice department. This opinion, Dawkins said, hurt the chances of convicting Home Builders.

RELIEF LANDED FOR CITIZENS AT TOWN IN HONDURAS

WASHINGTON, March 19.—A landing party of nine officers and 167 sailors was sent to the relief of Americans at Tegucigalpa, Honduras, following an urgent request to the Navy Department from American Minister Morales. Promiscuous shooting of innocent people in the streets by drunken soldiers of the three warring political factions, and looting of American, British and Chinese stores made the situation very grave. Morales reported that American consulate and legation had been fired upon.

Hugh Everett arrived on the noon train with his wife, Mrs. Hugh Everett, who has been seriously sick for the past two weeks in the Southlandn Hotel at Dallas. Her many friends will be glad that she is able to return home and wish her a speedy recovery.

J. Meers Told InMessageof Murder At El Paso

J. Meers received a telegram late Tuesday from El Paso, signed by his sister-in-law, stating that his brother, William Meers, had been killed by bandits.

Mr. Meers is a geologist well-known to this section, having been engaged in this part of the state for several years. Prior to his interest in this work here, he was associated with his brother, now deceased, working with him in his hazardous service along the border. He has the sympathy of the community in his loss. The funeral will be held Thursday according to advices from El Paso.

The following press reports are given of the affair leading to his death.

EL PASO, Texas, March 19.—Jose Carrasco was arrested late Tuesday in connection with the attempted pay roll holdup at the Galveston, Harrisburg & San Antonio Railroad shops, in which two men were killed and two others injured.

Police and special deputies are continuing their search for the other bandits. Shortly before noon Tuesday an attempt was made by four Mexicans to hold up two bank employes and two guards with a $14,447 pay roll at the Galveston, Harrisburg & San Antonio railroad shops here.

William Meers, chief of the guards of the El Paso branch of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, was instantly killed. Anastacio Lopez, 21, a shop employe bystander, was also killed. George H. Reed, bank employe, and C. A. Bittick, a guard, were wounded. Hospital attendants say both wounded men will recover.

W. L. Laird, teller at the American Trust and Savings Company, who was in charge of the money, probably saved his life when the bandit placed a pistol in his face and demanded him to throw up his hands, by dropping the money and running.

As the bandits left the scene of the holdup they kept firing from their pistols and rifles.

One of the unidentified bandits was wounded, according to the discovery made by police who captured the bandits' blood stained car in South El Paso shortly after the hold up.

No money was secured by the bandits.

A posse of special police officers and Deputy Sheriffs have surrounded the southern section of the city and a rigid search is being made of every house in the vicinity in the hope of locating the other bandits. Mexican authorities in Juarez have offered every assistance to the authorities here in their efforts to capture the bandits.

Fifteen Charter Commissioners Chosen at Polls

505 for and 122 against. This was the vote polled Tuesday by Mexia citizens when they expressed their opinion that a charter should be written and submitted for adoption or rejection to the voters of Mexia at another election later to be called. The fifteen whose names were printed on the ballots as charter commissioners were also favored. In some instances names were scratched and substitute names written in, but the majority for the fifteen was overwhelming.

More than four to one, favoring the charter commission, was a surprise to most everyone who had been led to believe that the opposition was pretty strong, general and organized for the election date. The vote showed that the opposition was not organized.

Now that good feeling still prevails, at the conclusion of the election, the charter commission urges that cooperation be given them in writing a suitable charter for later presentation to the people. The fifteen will organize soon, it is learned, and will likely carry the work to a conclusion as early as possible, in order that needless delay might be avoided.

The French Government has appointed Mme. Irene Jeanning actress of the Athene Theatre, Paris, as special envoy to the United States in the interests of French culture. She will give a series of lectures on French poets and poetry, and will read some of France's most famous poems.

Dallas Woman Dies From Nervous Strain

DALLAS, Texas, March 19.—Mrs. T. W. Woodcock, 75, died from nervous strain following the burning of her daughter's home, where she was living. Two adjoining residences were also destroyed. Total loss $15,000.

WOMAN'S MURDER PROVOKES HUNT FOR MONEY SHE LEFT

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Mar. 19.—A fortune which Dr. Zeo Zoe Wilkins, toy of wealthy men found slain in her home here was believed to have possessed, was sought by authorities today as a possible clew to the murderer.

Mrs. Wilkins, married six times, was declared by friends to have obtained large sums of money from her various husbands.

When she was divorced by Thomas S. Cunningham, wealthy banker of Joplin, she had more than $300,000 worth of stock in his bank that he had given her. She was believed to have obtained other large sums from Cunningham, as well as money and securities from her other husbands.

Examination of the room in which her body was found disclosed a pile of ashes which authorities believe resulted from burning of what the murderer believed to be the woman's will and other papers. The house had been ransacked apparently not by an ordinary burglar as valuable jewelry and clothing had been left untouched. Contents of strong boxes, chests and drawers had been scattered through out the house.

Zane Grey, the popular novelist, was a dentist in New York when he took to writing fiction.

Coolidge Ahead In North Dakota

FORGO, N. D., March 19.—President Calvin Coolidge had an expected lead of more than 2 to 1 in returns from cities early today as the presidential preference vote in North Dakota was counted.

Country precincts rapidly cut down his lead as they began coming in and Senator Hiram. Johnson supporters were confident he would win the republican preference.

Coolidge supporters were confident of victory by a substantial victory.

Senator Robert M. La Follette, "sticker" campaign, conducted in spite of the Wisconsin Senator's wishes, amounted to much more than Johnson's following anticipated, and surprised politicians generally.

With 287 precincts reported, the vite stood:

Coolidge 16,699; Johnson 8,964; La Follette 5,312.

This represented about one-sixth of the anticipated total vote cast.

Many of the most liberal districts are isolated from telephone and telegraph communication and it is doubtful if the result will be known until late today.

Indications early today were that the vote will be very close between all three candidates. La Follette was gaining as rapidly as Johnson in the country precinct returns, with the possibility of passing him.

Johnson's greatest strength is admittedly in the precincts as yet unheard, but Coolidge men felt certain he would not gain sufficiently to overcome the Coolidge lead. They felt that there was a light vote in much of the back country due to weather conditions.

The total vote is expected to be around 180,000.

Mutual Company Man Quizzed By Senate Probers

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Determined to learn how much politics and oil were mixed in 1920 presidential campaign, the Senate oil committee investigated rumors that the presidency was a bribe offered in exchange for control of the nation's natural resources, questioned Colonel James G. Darden, head of Mutual Oil Company. Darden said he conferred with Fall in regard to certain lands in 1921. He denied that Daugherty sent him to Fall.

John Adams lived the longest of any of the presidents after leaving office, about 25 years.

Three Cruisers Take To Sky In World Flight

EUGENE, Oregon, March 19.—Three around the world air cruisers, headed by Major F. L. Martin, hopped off for Vancouver Barracks, Washington.

EUGENE, Ore., March 19.—Three planes of the army's round the world flight were here today ready to take off for San Point, near Seattle on the third leg of their 30,000 mile journey. Major Frederick L. Martin, commander, and Lieut. Lowell Smith reached Eugene at shortly before 4 p. m., yesterday completing a successful flight from Mather Field Sacramento.

The third flier, Lieut. Leigh Wade, started from Mather Field with Martin and Smith but was forced to land at Cottonwood, California, and did not reach Eugene until 5:30 p. m.

Wade said a pet-cock on the radiator of his machine had been left open necessitating the land. He broke a wing in a tail skid, causing additional delay.

Martin made the flight from Sacramento in six hours and seven minutes buffeted by heavy head winds.

The fliers may make a brief stop at Vancouver, Washington, today but hope to reach Sand Point before night fall if weather is favorable.

YELLOW GOLD IS POURING INTO OSAGES AT AUSTIN

PAWHUSKA, Okla., March 19.—A new record of Indian revenue was in prospect here today as the second session of the Osage Indian oil lease auction got under way.

Various tracts, believed to conceal potentialities beyond computation, were the center of interest and oil representative of the world lay in wait for their introduction on the block.

Yellow gold in concrete form poured into the lap of Osage tribesmen in exchange for "black gold" possibilities at the close of the opening day of the lease auction when a world's record lease sale was chalked up at $1,955,000. The total revenue of the day amounted to $8,352,000 with approximately half of the 103,000 acres over the block.

Scores of solemn Indians, the direct beneficiaries of auction were perhaps the least moved, but they dropped their equanimity temporarily and cheered wildly with their white brethren when last sales record price of $1,600,000 was surpassed.

Smoking was tabooed in the crowded theatre where Colonel E. Walter, wearing his $150 hand carved knee boots told the virtues of the lands and admonished the bidders they were not dealing in "cotton patches."

"Shoot or give up the gun" was his prod when bidding dragged. Chewing gum vendors did a land office business while soft drink salesmen were a close second.

Oklahoma Gripped By Big now Storm

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., March 19.—Oklahoma was in the grip of another unseasanable snow storm today. A heavy wet snow with little wind started falling here early today and four inches covered the ground at day break. Indications are that the storm has reached northern Texas. Rail and wire communications were unhampered, according to wire officials here.

J. M. Roberts, of Corsicana, was in the city Monday.

THE EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

THE GROWING SPIRIT OF IRREVERENCE

The Texas Christian Advocate

We are not unaccustomed to the hue and cry that is raised over and anon about the irreverence of the day in which we live. The claim is not made that lack of reverence is an attitude which has been assumed only by this generation—unfortunately it goes far embedded in the soil of the past. The thing that should give us concern is the fact that instead of exercising the spirit of irreverence there are indications that it is being allowed to grow. Hence we are not to think of the cry that is raised about it as the mere mouthings of alarmists. The charge has about it too much of the semblance of truth for comfort. There is little solace at the fact that those of other days were irreverent for is there any satisfaction in the thought that we are no better than our fathers were, if indeed we are as good.

Indications of the growing spirit of irreverence may be found in the way we view the things which have come to us out of the past. Something has been the decreed that we are with a advantage world that we have surely a right to be proud of our intellectual attainments. To be sure we have come to go very fast in this world and could we live with an honest conviction the past. Nobody would be so fool, as to urge a. Disrespect of the past that the present has created a cult of the present that there will be made, and what is now present will soon be history more or less as a record to the past. But what is the attitude of the present toward the past? Is there a disposition to ignore what has been created the past will be until impossible to satisfy meet the requirements of the day.

The growing spirit of irreverence is to be observed in the lack of reverence for the Sabbath, in the attention and immoral literature which come to our press with such an importunate appeal in the lives of so large a number of the people that we dread to think of it; and in the immodest dress which is fashion's decree. There is an unending stream flowing into the picture shows, dance halls, and places of amusement and the trail to the divorce court has become a broad way and many are traveling it. There is a connection not difficult to trace between the growing spirit of irreverence and the destructive criticism of the Scriptures. No people could long hold in esteem the Church and the Word, both of which condemn their improprieties when there is constantly being raised about that Word one thing that strike at its authority and authenticity.

We have at hand today many facilities for communication and entertainment. The automobile, telephone, radio, movie and many other interesting and attractive features of our modern life have helped us, by our unwise and imprudent use of them, to lose some of our respect for the eternal things of truth and duty and to over-emphasize the value and importance of mechanical attractions and appliances. The way out is exactly where we started in. It is the duty of the Church member to live true to his vows. In proportion as we do this will there come a change in our mental outlook, and a revising of those estimates which we have made. If every Church member would do his duty daily, the growing spirit of irreverence would be exercised and there would be evident more sane and healthful view.

Letters from People

MEXIA AS VIEWED BY AN INSURANCE UNDERWRITER

Editor of the Mexia Daily News:

Mexia today is stepping in the path of success from every standpoint. She is looming up as a brilliant light to all the world. When we consider the educational and religious facilities and the willingness of her citizenship to cooperate with these and other institutions we can realize that Mexia is just at her dawning. Organizations of various kinds in Mexia are waking up to their chance of accomplishments and are endeavoring to win the confidence and good will of the surrounding country. I would suggest we go after a sure enough county fair. Mexia is in a position to offer valuable prizes for all the lines of produce that come from Mother earth. This would encourage farmers to plant better seed and raise better stock and poultry and all eyes would be turned toward Mexia every year for this event. Watch Mexia Grow.

Lone Star Wesley Bible Class Holds Social Meeting

The members of the Lone Star Wesley Bible Class enjoyed a social meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Duke Pittman with Mesdames Wagner, Fayle, Newberry, Riddle, Measles and Akin as cohostesses. The color scheme of green and white with the emblems of Saint Patrick was effectively used in decorating the house and in the dainty refreshments that were served.

A program consisting of readings by future members of this class was a pleasing feature; those little folks were: Mary Jane Crow, Alma Louise Riddle and Dorothy Cogdell. Musical numbers by Mrs. Werner, and a negro dialect reading by Mrs. Landrum completed the program.

The time that everyone had long expected had now arrived—the revealing of the Sunshine Sisters. Much merriment was caused by these announcements.

A short business session, with Miss Julia Kauhl, as president of the class, in charge, resulted in certain definite plans being formulated in regard to the young lady, an orphan, that this class is helping to support at Texas Woman's College.

The class was pleased to welcome as a visitor, Mrs. E. H. Hudson, wife of the pastor of the First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. W. B. Landrum.

Next Sunday evening, March, 23rd, at 8 o'clock a special program will be given at the First Methodist church. Mrs. W. B. Landrum will give a reading of "The Other Wise Man," a beautiful story by Henry Van Dyke. Special musical numbers are being arranged by the choir. The public is cordially invited to attend this service.

This 300 Pound Man Has Good Understanding

BRAZOS, Texas, March 19.—T. E. Sarrett, 300 pound farmer of this section is understood to have the best "understanding" of any man in Texas.

Sarrett modestly claims his feet are the biggest in the state.

He avers at the same time that his shoes, made to order, cost him $45 a pair at a Fort Worth shop.

The big farmer's feet measure 19½ inches from heel to toe. His instep is 14¾ inches and his ankle 12⅝ inches.

Slip-On Blouse with Raglan Sleeves.

Stunning for the Sportswoman.

The side-closing slip-on blouse is one of the newest and most fascinating vagaries of fashion. Here is a Paris model with collar and long sleeves which can be used for other than sports wear.

The sportswoman is a prettier picture than ever this season in her new overblouse and plaid skirt. Smart Paris ones are wearing with enthusiasm just now a blouse of the type pictured here, which may be developed in the silk knits in jersey or in the heavy satin-backed crepes or silk-flannels. The manufacturers seem to have been particularly generous in their offerings of materials for sport's wear.

The collar of the blouse is convertible and the opening is at one side. Because the method of fastening is unusual it is emphasized by attractive buttons. The sleeve extensions may be either flowing or closefitting, the latter style being illustrated.

When an extension is planned for a kimono sleeve it should always be put on with a lap seam (Fig. I). For a lap seam, first make a plain seam on the under side of the garment, and press to one side. On the right side of the blouse make a one-eighth inch fold of the material and baste the fold so that it entirely covers the seam line. Stitch the fold down, making the stitching exactly on the seam line.

This blouse may be converted into a dressy model by making it of crepe or satin, using contrasting material for the collar. By slashing the sleeve extensions and facing them with the material used for the collar, it takes on a dressy effect that is irresistible.

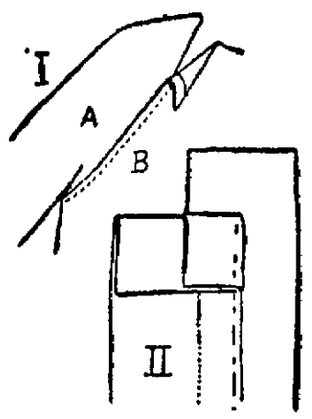

Fig. I—The Raglan Sleeve.
Fig. II—Making a Lap Seam.

To join the cuff to the fitted sleeve, fold the upper edges of cuff pieces one-fourth of an inch to wrong side. Stitch around the lower edge and ends, then turn the right side out. Slip the gathered lower edge of the sleeve between the cuff pieces, baste under piece, then upper piece, and stitch.

TRAINING CAMP NOTES

CLEARWATER, Fla.—Brooklyn may pass on one of the regular catchers to the St. Louis Cardinals for Milton Stock if the Cards do not get Young Gibson from the Boston Braves, it was reported at the camp today.

NEW ORLEANS.—While it was raining at the Yankee training camp, all the excitement was created by Babe Ruth who lost a $1,000 bill. The Babe started to the bank with four of them and when he got there he had only three.

SARASOTA, Fla.Condition of Heinie Groh is beginning to cause the Giants veterans concern. Groh, who was operated on, has been unable to do any heavy work.

LAKELAND, Fla.—An infected foot will keep Rube Lutzke, Indian third-sacker, out of today's game with the Cincinnati Reds.

AUGUSTA, Ga.—The Tigers adjourned after routine practice and went to a barbecue put on for them by a local club.

CATALIAN, Cal.—The Chicago Cubs are preparing to leave here tomorrow for Los Angeles where three games are to be played with Vernon Tigers and the Los Angeles team.

BRADENTOWN, Fla.—The failure of Frank Chance, manager of the Chicago White Sox to appear, has started discussion of whether the "Peerless Leader" will be in harness this year.

BRADENTOWN, Fla.—Ernie Vick, catcher with Houston last year, will be a member of the Cards this year, Branch Rickey announced. Harry McCurdy, Clyde Barfoot and Johnny Kane, all of the Cardinals camp, will play with Houston this year. The Giants play the Cards today.

Prayer meeting services will be held in all local churches tonight at 7:15. The public is cordially invited.

Virginia Lady Says That Many of Her Long-Suffered Ills Have Fled Since She Took Cardui.

Bristol, Va.—"I can sleep good at night now, something I have never done before in my life," says Mrs. Deala Hawks, of 712 Prospect St., this city, "and it is due to Cardui.

"I was always nervous and tossed when I should have been asleep, but since I took Cardui it has strengthened me, and my general health is so improved that many of the ills from which I have suffered for years have fled. . .

"I used to go to bed tired and, when I would get up in the morning, I was still tired. Now I feel like doing a day's work in my garden or in the house, and I owe all this good health to Cardui, for I had suffered for years until I took it.

"I had had female trouble for years and once, for six months, I was flat on my back. I am glad to recommend to other women a medicine which has helped me."

If you are nervous and run-down in health, suffering as Mrs. Hawks describes above, it is probable that Cardui will greatly help you. Try it.

A Blouse That Sets the Fashion

Embroidery Adds Zest to This Model

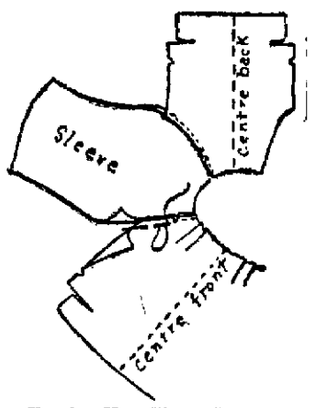
This model sets, rather than follows the fashion in blouses. As an integral part of the season's three-piece costume it is unequalled for beauty and smartness.

Here is the latest Paris version of a fashionable blouse—simple lines, beautiful material and original trimming. It has raglan sleeves and the lower side edges are slashed and gathered so that when they are attached to the upper edges, a hip-band is formed.

The decoration of the model is in Chinese pattern—the coloring being bright and joyous on a background of stone gray. Blue, brown, dark green and black also form artistic foundations for the brilliant Chinese colorings, and, of course, one could not find a more satisfactory material than crepe for an overblouse. This design calls for two yards of silk at least 36 inches wide.

The diagram shows how exceedingly simple is the waist model. There are no seams either at the front or the back and it is an exceedingly easy matter to set in the raglan sleeves with a plain or a foll seam. At either side of the front there are two hand-run tucks and the neck is bound with a bias fold of its own material. The Chinese hieroglyphics are done in flat satin stitch and this stitch is also used for the motifs at the lower front of the blouse and on the sleeves. Combined with the latter, however, are darning stitches worked into irregular lines that emphasize the beauty of the Chinese work while connecting it with the needlework of the western world.

There are many little accessories that go with the separate overblouse this season—bracelets, ear-rings, etc.



Showing How Blouse Is Put Together

They are made of various minerals and metals and usually repeat the colors of the garment with which they are worn. Many of the bracelets affected by very smart women are imported directly from China, which does not necessarily mean that they are expensive.

About thirty members of the American Legion and the Auxiliary met at the Legion Hall Tuesday night for a most enjoyable evening. R. B. Andrews, Principal of the High School, presided with enthusiasm and presented the girls quartet of the Mexia High School Glee Club as a special attraction, which was received with generous applause. Mrs. W. B. Landrum gave two readings, which were likewise enjoyed. Garland Adair, of The News, discussed "Objections to the Legion and Their Answer." Following the program, Post Commander Owen F. Watkins took charge and an informal hour was spent in the club rooms relating war time experiences and planning for the future.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kennedy returned from Childers, Texas, on the noon train Wednesday accompanied by Mrs. Kennedy's father, J. W. Minnick from Santa Fe, New Mexico, where they have been attending the funeral of W. F. Minnick, a brother of Mrs. Kennedy, who was buried there Tuesday.

Jesse McLendon Wears Millinery For Gusher Club

Jesse Mcendon and Jake Thompson, arm in arm, braved the dripping clouds this morning, winning $20.00 for the Mexia Gushers.

Although Mr. McLendon is said to be in such poor health that he has to have his barber come to his office to shave him, he accepted a challenge made during the rainy part of the morning to wear Miss Cathereene Mc Grail's hat a couple of blocks down the street to the Wecih Motor company and return. For doing this he was to receive 20. with which to pur chase the lady's millinery and she in turn agreed to give the proceeds to the baseball club. No soner had the agreement been made and John Phillips and J. K. Thompson put up their money when Mr. McLendon, locked arms with Mr. Thompson and their two block tour was on. Mr. Thompson enjoyed the joke hugely as did everyone else who witnessed the unusual spectacle. Mr. McLendon was terribly embarrassed thruout the proceedings, but he was sure that he was doing a real service for the Gushers. e visited quite a number of concerns while thus decorated. The money was released immediately after he ha dwon and the affair attarcted to his office, Dr. R. B. Jackson, who was not to be out done by Mr. McLendon, in loyalty to the club, so he chipped in $20.00 to match that which had been provided for the Gushers by the incident.

There were many who agreed that Mr. McLendon was better looking in the borrcved hat than any he had ever before worn, but that fact does not encourage him in the adoption of any such gorgeousness for head gear, except when he can make a little ready money for the club, which needs all the support it can get.

Baptised on His Deathbed; Wins Jewish Burial

WARSAW (By Mail to United Press.)—A curious "cause celebre" has come to an end here with the burial of Raphael Felsenkranz in the Jewish cemetery.

Felsenkranz, an orthodox Jew, and for many years editor of the Assekuranz Zeitung, died recently, aged 71. He had a daughter who became converted to Christianity and adopted the Polish name of Lilin Wojciechowska. When her father was dying she decided that he should die in the Christian faith, so she had him baptized while unconscious on his deathbed.

Then she was smitten with remorse and hurried off to the chief rabbi of Warsaw and asked him to re-admit her father to the Jewish faith. The chief rabbi hurried with her to the house. But they were too late. The old editor had passed on.

Then came the question where the remains were to be placed. The Jewish community ruled that as he had been baptised he belonged to the Christian burial ground; the distressed family appealed to the secular authorities, who replied that they could not overrule the Jewish community. Then the family carried the appeal to the Rabbinical Council, which decided that Felsenkranz had never consciously abjured the faith of his fathers and was entitled to Jewish burial. So after eight days of intense public discussion the old editor was laid to rest in the Jewish burial ground.

SPORTLIGHTS

By BUTLER

The Pioneer Newsies put up a good game Sunday afternoon, taking into consideration the fact that they opposed a team of much older and more experienced players. The score stood 18 to 11.

Thanks are due Hardy Eubanks for his successful efforts in securing the best schedule for the Mexia Gushers during the coming season that the club has ever had. For the first time since the club was organized games have been secured for the fourth of July on the home grounds. Other than that the schedule has been most conveniently arranged with no long periods during which the team will play away from home. Out of 18 Sunday games, also, thirteen will be played here.

At the meeting in the office of Jesse McLendon Saturday afternoon the Mexia Baseball Club cancelled their contract with the Goldsmith Company for baseballs and signed one with the Rawlings people. Much trouble was experienced last year with the Goldsmith balls which are understood to be especially made for the grass diamonds of the big lengues and proved very unsatisfactory for skinpromises to give entir ned diamonds. The Rawlings ball promises to give entire satisfaction.

T. L. Gray, a rookie from Howe, reported Monday for a try out with the Gushers. If this weather continues fair he should have a chance to show his stuff before long.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The proposed return heavyweight title match between Jack Dempsey and Tommy Gibbons, which Tex Rickard planned to stage in the metropolitant district early in June, was called off tonight by the promoter after a conference he had with Jack Kearns, the champion's manager.

Abandonment of the bout, forecast several days ago, was due to a motion picture contract which Dempsey has accepted and which will keep him busy until some time in July. Rickard said Kearns told him the financial inducements offered for movie work were greater than those held out for a return battle with Gibbons.—Dallas News.

Possibly financial inducements are not the only inducement having weight in the matter. The Movie bug seems to be no respector of person. Evidently the heavyweight championship berth is developing into a genuine white collar job.

Here is the lineup of the Everyboys Club. As we understand it the club is open to all boys in the town, certain age limits being followed:

Catcher, O. Masters; pitchers, J. Gamble; first base, W. Wiggins; second base, Ray Pogh; third base, M. Musters; short stop, E. Wiggins; right field, Sam Sewell; left field, L. P. Mackey; center field, Roscoe Ross.

This club played Pioneer Newsies baseball team Sunday afternoon defeating that team in fifteen innings by a score of 18 to 11. Joe Gamble made a good showing in the box during the game.

The Horn Hill basketball team defeated the Willow Springs team in a game played on the Horn Hill court Friday of last week the score being 32 to 4. A good way to close the season alright.

The First Methodist cagers representing the Corsicana Sunday School Basketball League in the tournament which was held at the Corsicana Y. M. C. A. Saturday night for the title of the State won both games and fought a winning fight for the State title among the Sunday Schools of Texas. The Corsicana Cagers won over the Waco team decisively, forcing them to carry off the small end of a 22-6 score. They then defeated the Dallas Cliff-Temple Baptist team with a count of 37 to 19.

The Hubbard high school Wildcats baseball nine will open their official season with a game against the West high school Sluggers at West, Tuesday afternoon in the event that the weather conditions permit. Hubbard is handicaped by a scarcity of pitching talent, though the team is said to boast several hardhitters who may offset this disadvantage.

Marlin and Temple will not have Sunday Baseball. This is very much to the liking to the fans in the other cities in the league (especially Corsicana) who will have more Sunday games.

Manager Williams of the Pioneer Newsies announced that after the Sunday exhibition game which his club lost to the Everyboys Club he believes that he knows just exactly where his players should be placed and will make some changes in the line up in order to fill out the weak spots. He stated that he is well satisfied with the showing that his boys made against the larger boys and is confident that the Pioneers will beat the Everyboys after they have gone through general training. With the Newsies uniforms on the road he said that he expects a better showing from his boys. Which is true alright, for the boys like to wear uniforms and gain more confidence in doing so.

The Mexia High Black Cats Baseball team will open the season here next Friday afternoon when they meet the Kosse nine on Nowlin Park. The game will be called at 3:30. From the showing of the team in the stiff workouts which Coach Poteet has been putting them through the Black Cats ought to bear off the large end of the score. While bad weather has interfered with practice it must be remembered that the Kosse team has experienced the same handicap and errors due to lack of practice should about balance.

Tuberculosis Menace In Germany Certain Unless Kin of Sufferers Dispatch Relief Without Delay

Germany has been characterized by no less distinguished an authority than Dr. Haven Emerson, former Commissioner of Health of New York City and an authority on community health, as "a perfect organization for the spread of tuberculosis." Dr. Emerson made this statement recently on his return from a tour of Germany, made at the request of the American Committee for the Relief of German Children, of which Major-General Henry T. Allen is chairman, for the purpose of learning the truth about distress in that country.

The accompanying photograph shows graphically why these once healthy people are becoming prey to dread diseases. The pinch of poverty has compelled them to acquire more cramped and squalid living quarters and, compelled as they are to subsist on meagre rations, it is not long before their bodies give way to the strain upon them.

The couple shown are of the middle class, the husband a clerk, and in former years were comfortably housed and fed on his earnings. Now they find difficulty in procuring food of any sort and are dependent absolutely upon outside assistance if they are to be saved from illness and possible death.

It is the purpose of the American Committee to provide relief through its funds only for children, hence the financial burden of caring for adults must be assumed by others who have an interest in the grown-ups. For this reason the committee has established a food package department, through which persons in America who have relatives or friends in any part of Germany may, by paying ten dollars, assure the delivery to them of 110 pounds of substantial American food, including 40 pounds of flour, 25 pounds of rice, 10 pounds of sugar, 8 pounds of cooking fats, 5 pounds of cocoa and 24 one-pound tins of evaporated milk. The packages are insured and transported without cost in Germany by the government there.

What such a contribution would mean to the man and wife shown in the above photograph is obvious. A package would last them for weeks with judicious use and might save them from serious illness.

Applications may be made either in person or by mail to the Food Package Department, American Committee for Relief of German Children, 42 Broadway, New York.

INSECT PESTS COST NATION $2,000,000,000 EVERY YEAR

By S. W. STRAUS

President American Society for Thrift

FEW of us realize, perhaps, that our nation is today at war with an enemy as relentless as any human foe could be. This condition of warfare costs us $2,000,000,000 annually. Between 10 and 20 per cent of our crops are destroyed by insects. Each of us pays a tribute of nearly $20 a year to these pests.

S. W. STRAUS

And the menace is steadily increasing!

No less an authority than L. O. Howard, chief of teh Bureau of Entomology, Department of Agriculture, frankly states that "damage by insects is growing greater."

What has been called officially a "Hindenburg Line" has been established from Long Island to Canada as part of the effort to check the Westward march of the gypsy moth.

Equally vigorous defensive warfare is being carried on to the Central States to prevent the corn-borer from reaching the great corn-belt of America. This pest, which came originally from Hungary and Southern Russia, has reached the lake borders of Ohio and Michigan. In New Jersey and Eastern Pennsylvania the Japanese beetle has laid waste fruit, vegetables and forests in an area of 770 square miles. Relentless warfare, costing millions of dollars, alone can prevent its spread to other sections.

The San Jose scale, Hessian fly, Mediterranean fruit-fly, green bug, chinch bug, clover-seed midge and a hundred other species of destructive insects exist in this country, each of which, we are told, causes a damage of hundreds of thousands of dollars annually. Moreover, each of these species may become the source of incalculable loss if not held in check through incessant vigilance.

There is a glorious lesson in citizenship to be learned from this situation. Were it not for the solid and orderly organization of government and its attendant scientific activities these insects would destroy our food supply and force each of us to fight for life itself.

Longhorn Band Carries Special Orchestra of Twelve Pieces On Tour Bringing Them to This City

AUSTIN, Texas, March 19.—The University of Texas Longhorn Band and Premier Entertainers will carry a special theatre orchestra of twelve pieces on the annual nine day state tour of the organization, March 18 to 27. Included in the personnel of the orchestra will be Miss Dorthy Dumars of Houston, who will also appear on the program as a soloist, and later with "Bus" Edens of Hillsboro for a second musical number.

Two overtures will feature by the orchestra during the concert, the first one being "Balle Egyptian" by A. Luigini. The second overture will be "You5re in Love" by Rudolf Friml, and special selections will be played upon request.

Members of the orchestra are Geo. S. Burham, violin, of Sweetwater; Miss Dorothy Dumars of Houston, piano; Harold A. Corey, picolo, of San Antonio; Rudolph Sippola, and Harry Hauser, clarinet, of Mercedes and Galveston; Royal Calder and Ciel Silvey, cornet, both of Austin; A. J. Cause of Pimples Explained

It is easy to understand why so many people never have been able to get rid of their pimples, blotches, humps, and other skin troubles, which keep them from being attractive, when you consider that few of them know what is causing them, and naturally don't know when they are not doing the right thing to get rid of them.

So-called skin diseases are caused by poisons from the perspiration becoming congested in the tiny pores and glands of the skin because they can't get out. Unhealthy skin holds them back and you know what must happen when you continue to let this condition exist. For this reason "skin lotions," etc., can't possibly help you any. You need what is known as Black and White Ointment which heals the sores, builds up the tissue of the skin, makes it active, so it naturally expels all the acid poisons which the system must throw off through the pores. Then pimples, blotches, "breaking out," eczema, etc., quickly disappear.

Black and White Ointment is economically priced in generous packages. The 50c size contains three times as much as the 25c size. All dealers have it.—(Adv.)

TheOther Roosevelt As Told by Himself

Rare, indeed, is the person who can remain unmoved when an almost forgotten chapter of the great man's life is suddenly revealed in all the clarity of its influence upon his entire career.

What would Roosevelt have been without the fullest use of the most precious of his senses? How would that amazing energy and almost boundless vitality have been expended except for the help that was given with the aid of glasses? Virtually every crown of Roosevelt's career was won through the physical and mental radius that eye-glasses gave him. There could never have been the Roosevelt of magnificient destiny without that little appurtenance a pair of eyeglasses! Read the story in his own words:

"Quite unknown to myself, I was, while a boy, under a hopeless disadvantage in studying nature. I was very nearsighted, so that the only things I could study were those I ran against or stumbled over. . . . It was this summer that I got my first gun, and it puzzled me that my companions seemed to see things to shoot at which I could not see at all.

"One day they read aloud an advertisement in huge letters on a distant billboard, and I then realized that something was the matter, for not only was I unable to read the sign but I could not even see the letters. I spoke to my father, and soon afterwards got my first pair of spectacles, which literally opened a new world to me.

"I had no idea how beautiful the world was until I got those spectacles. I had been a clumsy and awkward little boy and while much of my clumsiness and awkardness was doubtless due to general characteristics, a good deal of it was due to the fact that I could not see and yet was wholly ignorant that I was not seeing.

"The recollection of this experience gives me a keen sympathy with those who are trying in our public schools and elsewhere to remove the physical causes of deficiency in children, who are often unjustly blamed for being obstinate or unambitious or mentally stupid." (From "Theodore Roosevelt"; An Autobiography, page 22, copyright, Charles Scribner's Sons, Publishers.)

Pioneer Newsies Sign Agreement

The following is an agreement that the boys who are to play for the Pioneer Ball team which E. J. Ormsby, owner of the Pioneer News Stand, is sponsoring and Harry Williams is managing. Twelve boys have already signed the agreement.

I will report every time practice is called.

I will be on hand on time for every game.

I will play any position on the team that I may be called on to fill to the best of my ability.

I will obey the manager in every respect.

I will not holler at or bawl out any player on my team for a poor play.

I will try to encourage every player to win.

I will not swear.

I will not throw my glove at a ball or player.

I will take care of my uniform.

I will always try to keep my eye on the ball.

I will always try to guard our property, such as baseballs, gloves and bats, as if they were my own.

I will be a good loser and not fight with any player on the ball diamond without permission from the manager.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

This is to state that we have mutually agreed to practice law independent and separate from one another in our own individual names, and that this separation will date from March 1, 1924.

Hereafter each of us will continue the practice of law with our respective offices in Mexia, Texas, and will be pleased to attend to such general legal business that may be offered us.

All cases now on hand will be properly represented.

SHERIFF'S SALE

The State of Texas, County of Limestone.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of a certain Order of Sale issued out of the Honorable District Court of Limestone County, of the 6th day of March, 1924, by the District Clerk, of said Limestone County, for the sum of Seven Hundred Sixty-Two 30-100 ($762.30) Dollars and costs of suit, under a Vendor's Lien, in favor of Wm. M. Rice Institute, in a certain cause in said Court, No. 4190-B and styled Wm M. Rice Institute vs. J. E. Frost, John S. Prince, and F. W. Woodward, placed in my hands for service, I, Whit Popejoy, as Sheriff of Limestone County, County, Texas, did, on the 8th, day of March 1924, levy on certain Real Estate, situated in Limestone County, Texas, described as follows, to wit: Upon Lot No. 5 in Block No. 38, in the City of Mexia, according to the map of said City drawn by C. E. Davis, a copy of which is recorded in Vol. 52, page 621, deed records of Limestone County, Texas, and levied upon as the property of J. E. Frost, John S. Prince and F. W. Woodward, and that on the first Tuesday in April 1924, the same being the 1st day of said month, at the Court House door, of Limestone County, in the Town of Groesbeck, Texas, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m., by virtue of said levy and said Order of Sale, I will sell said above described Real Estate at public vendue, for cash, to the highest bidder, as the property of said J. E. Frost, John S. Prince and F. W. Woodward.

And in compliance with law, I give this notice by publication, in the English language, once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale, in the Mexia Daily News, a newspaper published in Limestone County.

Witness my hand, this 8th day of March, 1924.

WHIT POPEJOY,
Sheriff, Limestone
County, Texas.

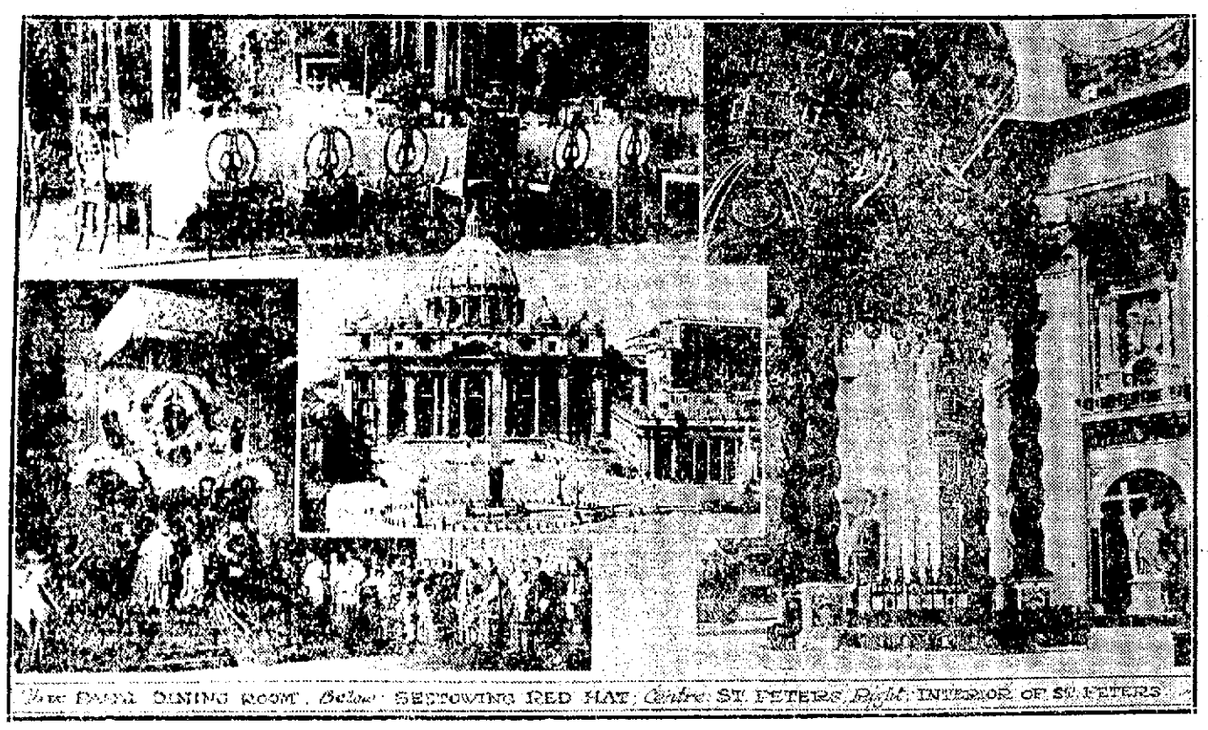
HOW AMERICAN CARDINALS WILL RECEIVE RED HATS.



The Papal Dining Room. Below: Bestowing Red Hat. Center: St. Peters. Right: Interior of St. Peters.

Above are shown an exterior and an interior view of St. Peter's Cathedral, in the Vatican at Rome, which Pope Pius XI. has designated as the scene of the public consistory at which he will bestow the red hats of Cardinals upon Archbishops Patrick J. Hayes, of New York, and George W. Mundelein, of Chicago. Following the brilliant ceremony, the newly created Cardinals will dine with the Pope in the dining hall of the Vatican. A previous session of the Sacred College of Cardinals, during which the red hat was bestowed, is pictured. The elevation of the American Cardinals will be of exactly similar a character.

MEN AND WOMEN WHO FIGURE IN THE NEWS OF THE DAY.

Above: Harry K. Thaw, Mrs. James A. Stillman, Trevor Davis. Below: Mal Daugherty, Mrs. Me Hamilton, Gaston B. Means.

Gaston B. Means, former Department of Justice investigator, told an amazing story of alleged bribery to a Senatorial Investigating Committee in Washington. Mal Daugherty, Washington Court House, O., banker, was summoned as a witness before the same committee, which is investigating the actions of his brother, Attorney General Daugherty. Tewfik Pasha, Minister of Home Affairs in the Nationalist Government of Turkey, is reported to have been assassinated. With the consent of his mother, Harry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White, world famous architect, has instituted proceedings to have himself declared sane and released from the Pennsylvania Hospital for Mental and Nervous Diseases in Philadelphia. Thaw is now in his mother's Pittsburgh home on parole. Mrs. Anne Urquhart Stillman, wife of James A. Stillman, former president of the National City Bank of New York, America's greatest financial institution, won a signal victory in the divorce suit instituted by her husband, who sought to show that Baby Guy Stillman was the son of Fred Beauvais, a Canadian Indian guide. The courts have ruled that the child is legitimate and that Stillman, himself guilty of misconduct, cannot have a divorce. Mrs. Mary E. Hamilton, head of New York City's women police, has picked a dozen of her best-looking operatives and started them out on a crusade against mashers. She ordered them to scratch up every male flirt, and asked every woman approached to do the same thing. If her finger nails aren't sharp, she urged women to use hatpins.

Otherwise He Was All Right

ORANGE, Texas, March 19.—Of all the human wrecks who come to Francis Ann Lutcher hospital for repairs, Bill Williams, negro, was the most badly battered.

Bill's hat blew off and when he chased it down the street he collided with an automobile with the result:

His skull was fractured, his left leg was fractured, his collar bone was broken, his ankle was broken, his arm crushed, his wrist smashed, he was cut about the face and body and injured internally.

But he'll recover, doctors say.

GLEE CLUB ENTERTAINMENT TO BE GIVEN APRIL 4TH

The High School Glee Club program which had been planned to be held Friday night, March the 21st, has been postponed until the night of April the 4th. This change was announced Wednesday, in deference to the Longhorn Band concert which will be given at the Opera House Monday night, March the 24th.

CHICAGO.—A fight between Tom Gibbons and Georges Carpentier this summer, either at Benton Harbor or Michigan City is being discussed here. Eddie Kane, manager of Gibbons, said he would sign up if Floyd Fitzsimmons, promoter, who claims to have the Frenchman's signature to a fight, can show whether the fight can be staged.

PARIS.—Ted (Kid) Lewis defeated Francis Charles, French middleweight champion in 15 rounds on points.

URBANA, Ill.—Tommy Gibbons of St. Paul will meet Bill Hart here tomorrow night.

Jack pine, a tree growing in the southern part of Maine, has been found growing on an island in Lobster lake, thirty miles farther north than it has ever been noted before.

Red-haired women are said to suffer less from serious diseases than darker women.

PATTERSON'S COLUMN

I never was a hand to pick
A quarrel out of fate;
I've taken what it handed me,
And up to present date
I think I've had about as much
Of happiness and cheer
As I have had of mournfulness
And joyless days and drear.

The matter with us most it seems
We blindly go our way,
A planning happiness in dreams
Forgetting that today
Was yesterday the future
And will dead tomorrow be,
And really that tomorrow
Is a time we never see.

So though I have no wealth to give,
A deed my take its place.
My prayer is this: That I may live
So time can never trace
An unjust act toward any man
I meet along the way,
But let me help him if I can,
And do it now—today!

Boys Reading Club Perfects Its Organization

The Boy's Reading Club of Sumpter Street School prefected its organization Wednesday morning at the Public Library when the Constitution was presented by Tommie Randolph and adopted by the members.

The club has recently been organized and meets each Wednesday morning at the Library. Its object as set forth in the constitution is "to make the members acquainted with a large number of good books."

The club members were given a month's membership at the library by Mrs. Georgia Bergeron, and it is the plan of the club to read as widely in the field of good books as possible.

Besides the books the individual members are reading, there are seven books selected each week to be read by the entire club. This week's list includes the following: In the Great Wild North, The Iroquois Scout, Two Years Before the Mast, Robin Hood, Little Lord Fauntleroy, and The Boy's Scout Book.

TEXAN TESTIFIES BEFORE SENATE COMMITTEE

Brother of Mexia Man Killed By Mexican Bandits

Horn-Kendrick

No more brilliant, nor beautiful, nor impressive, nor happier wedding affair has ever charmed those who looked on through eyes of love, affection, friendship and hope than that of last Saturday evening, at the home of the bride, when Mr. Val Horn and Miss Christine Kendrick of this city were united by holy wedlock's sacred ties.

The imagination in its flight could not have conceived of a prettier setting than that presented by the new and magnificent home on Canton street, where Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Kendrick, parents of the bride reside, which was decorated for the occasion, by Mrs. J. W. Elliott and Miss Dasa Ellington and other close friends of the family who had prepared with loving hands the altar which should mark the spot so momentous in the lives of the principals in the wedding. Every nook and corner of the home, too, was given the deft touch which transformed the naturally lovely home into one lovelier still for the eventful hour. Green and lavendar predominated in the decorations.

Probably two hundred guests were present at the nuptials ceremony, enlivening the brilliant scene with that animation of joyous men, women and children who were to witness the union of a charming young lady and an esteemed young business man of this community.

Many social affairs had been given during the weeks immediately preceding the marriage occasion, wherein the bride was the honor guest, who was thus made to know, probably more than ever, that her home community was a community of friends who loved her and who wished for her royal happiness throughout life's pilgrimage with her chosen mate. Among these, at the home of Mrs. Gene Sinclair, Mrs. Sinclair and Mrs. G. E. Petty entertained in her honor, giving a miscellaneous shower. Misses Dasa and Beth Ellington, at their home, also gave a bridge party at which she was the honoree, followed by another at the home of Mrs. Rome Rust who was assisted by Mrs. W. M. White, Jr.

At the door, the gleeful guests were met by the hospitable mother of the bride, assisted by Mesdames Gene Sinclair, J. W. Elliott, Rush Allison, Emile Nussbaum, J. W. Lanning, Weems Craig and Misses Rosellen Sadler, Corinne and Elsie Desenberg and Dasa Ellington. The latter presided at the bride's book, which was signed by scores who thus attested their presence and best wishes.

The house guests for the marriage were seated in the large and handsome living room, before whose mantel, the altar had been provided, immediately to the right of the altar. They were: Parents of the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Kendrick and Mrs. S. B. Horn, of Dallas, respectively; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kendrick and Mr. and Mrs. Nat Kendrick, of Duncan, Oklahoma, Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Kendrick of Waco, Mr. and Mrs. K. S. Black and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Black all of Thornton, uncles and aunts of the bride; Miss Lucille Clark, a niece of the groom, of Fort Worth, and Miss Effie Cannon Barron of Thornton and Miss Lois Childs of Waco. Also grand parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Black of Thornton.

At 8 o'clock promptly, Mr. George Bell sang "Until" accompanied by Miss Beth Ellington at the piano. Then when Mendelssohn's wedding march was begun, immediately thereafter, all eyes turned to the stairway, down which the two gentlemen and boyish heralds came. They were James Sinclair, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Sinclair, and Harold Kendrick, brother of the bride. They were clad in dark blue coats and white trousers, shoes and sox. With due regard for the importance of their duty and privilege, they lined the aisle to the altar with ropes of smilax, taking their places properly at the end of their slow journey.

The matrons, Mrs. Rome Rust, and Mrs. W. M. White, next appeared in the order named. Both carried shepherd crooks, tied with lavendar toule sweet peas and maiden hair ferns, Mrs. Rust wore a green beaded georgette gown and Mrs. White, Jr., a lavendar beaded gown.

The Maids were Misses Maurine and Laura Kendrick of Duncan, Oklahoma, cousins of the bride. They too carried shepherd crooks. Miss Maurine Kendrick was attired in lavendar georgette and creme lace and Miss Laura Kendrick in green georgetee. All wore silver bandeaus on their hair.

The Matron of honor was Mrs. Nick Miller of Cisco, who next appeared, in lavendar georgette with pearl and gold beads. She carried a shower boquet of Kilarney roses, maiden hair ferns and lavendar and sweet peas.

Immediately after her appeared Miss Franchelle Jackson of Corsicana, Maid of Honor, who carried a similar shower boquet and was dressed in a gown of gold lace.

The ring bearer followed. He was little Joe Kendrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Kendrick of Waco. He was attired in white stain, with shoes and sox to correspond, all becomingly set off with a windsor tie. On a white satin pillow he carried the ring which was upheld in the heart of a rose by stemens of pearl.

At the side door, leading to a room used for the occasion for the wedding gifts, next appeared the groom, accompanied by Ross Brown of Waco, who served as best man. Both were attired in Tuxedos.

The flower girl next appeared on the scene. She was little Miss Jeanelle Walton, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Walton of this city, and all agreed she was a perfect little darling, in her dress of white net and lace and with silver braided slippers, trimmed in lavendar and green georgette roses. In her arms she carried a pink and lavendar basket, from which she distributed rose petals in the pathway of the oncoming bride.

The bride appeared at the head of the stairs, on the arm of her brother, W. B. Kendrick, Jr. She was a vision or rare southern beauty, gowned in a white georgette veil over white satin, beaded with pearls and rhinestones and over her head, becomingly fell a veil net, with orange blossoms and a shower of orange blossoms. On her arm she carried a shower of bride's roses, lillies of the valley and maiden hair ferns. White stain slippers brocaded with silver completed the lovely picture she presented.

Mr. Kendrick was attired as other men of the party.

Jack Lanning, followed the bride as train bearer, attired in a white stain suit with shoes and sox to correspond, performing his services in a perfect manner. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lanning of this city.

Rev. G. T. Reaves, pastor of the First Christian church performed the wedding ceremony, the ring service being used, in a most impressive manner, lending solemnity to the vows there taken. Miss Beth Ellington throughout the ceremony, played a medley of love songs, dying slowly away, as the benediction was pronounced, after the bride and groom had been united as man and wife.

The Altar was immediately in front of the handsome mantel, banks of ferns, and flowers in profusion giving the scene the gorgeous beauty of Springtime. Palms were placed within the banks and Easter lillies added to the scene. On the sides were pedestals of carnations and lillies of the valley and tall candlelabraes holding up white candle sticks. Over all winged as if on an eternal flight was suspended the Dove of Peace and lovers' knot, which rested just above the bride during the ceremony.

The arch at the foot of the stars, of bamboo and wisteria; the three green and lavendar wedding bells, at the entrance to the altar room, clustered in a group over the doorway; the decorations carrying out the general scheme of lavendar and green; the dining room where the bride's cake was cut immediately after the ceremony; the guests book in the reception room; and the gift room were other features that attracted the interest and admiration of those gathered.

Following congratulations extended to the newly wedded couple, Miss Rosellen Sadler of Corsicana presided when the bride's cake was cut. Refreshments of lavendar and white angels food squares were served, following which the bride went to the head of the stairway and threw down her boquet which was caught by Miss Cathereene McGrail who tendered it with congratulations to Mrs. W. B. Kendrick, mother of the bride.

The gift room contained a large assortment of gifts, which were tendered by loved ones and friends. The entire room was filled with these evidences of high regard, from friends from all walks and stations of life, appreciated deeply by the happy receivers of so many good things.

Miss Beth Ellington wore an orchid and silver lace dress; Miss Dasa Ellington, gold lace over blue metal cloth; Mrs. Gene Sinclair, yellow beaded georgette, Mrs. J. W. Elliott, lavendar lace; Mrs. Rush Allison, orchid beaded georgetee, Mrs. Emile Nussbaum, blue beaded georgette, Mrs. J. W. Lanning, georgetee, Mrs. Weems Craig pink chiffon and metal cloth; Miss Rosellen Sadler, peach and silver lace over peach satin; Miss Corinne Desenberg flesh beaded georgette over yellow satin.

Mrs. W. B. Kendrick wore handsome grey georgette over grey satin and beaded with steel cut beads and a pink and lavendar corsage.

Mrs. S. B. Horn, mother of the groom, was attired in lovely dark canton crepe.

Among the gifts not included in the gift room was a deed to the home, formerly occupied by the parents of the bride, at 306 South Kaufman street, where they will be at home within the next ten days.

Following the reception, the bride and groom and wedding party left for Waco, and on Sunday, from which point, Mr. and Mrs. Horn left for San Antonio where, according to messages since received they are spending their honeymoon.

The bride wore a going away suit green charmene with channelle overblouse, hat to match and gray shoes and gloves.

Friends accompanying them to Waco, by automible, were Ross Brown, John Corley, Mrs. Nick Miller, Lois Childs and Beth Ellington.

Washington Is Told of Texas Lottery By Dawkins

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Senate investigators of Attorney General Daugherty today hunted facts concerning charges that the Department of Justice refused to prosecute lottery concerns in Texas, despite repeated reports to Washington that the law is being violated. T. D. Dawkins, postal inspector of Dallas, testified that Federal District AttorneyZweifel failed to prosecute the United Home Builders of America without direct orders from Washington. He said the assistant attorney general rendered an opinion that with certain changes operations of other companies engaged in similar activities were satisfactory to the postoffice department. This opinion, Dawkins said, hurt the chances of convicting Home Builders.

RELIEF LANDED FOR CITIZENS AT TOWN IN HONDURAS

WASHINGTON, March 19.—A landing party of nine officers and 167 sailors was sent to the relief of Americans at Tegucigalpa, Honduras, following an urgent request to the Navy Department from American Minister Morales. Promiscuous shooting of innocent people in the streets by drunken soldiers of the three warring political factions, and looting of American, British and Chinese stores made the situation very grave. Morales reported that American consulate and legation had been fired upon.

Hugh Everett arrived on the noon train with his wife, Mrs. Hugh Everett, who has been seriously sick for the past two weeks in the Southlandn Hotel at Dallas. Her many friends will be glad that she is able to return home and wish her a speedy recovery.

J. Meers Told InMessageof Murder At El Paso

J. Meers received a telegram late Tuesday from El Paso, signed by his sister-in-law, stating that his brother, William Meers, had been killed by bandits.

Mr. Meers is a geologist well-known to this section, having been engaged in this part of the state for several years. Prior to his interest in this work here, he was associated with his brother, now deceased, working with him in his hazardous service along the border. He has the sympathy of the community in his loss. The funeral will be held Thursday according to advices from El Paso.

The following press reports are given of the affair leading to his death.

EL PASO, Texas, March 19.—Jose Carrasco was arrested late Tuesday in connection with the attempted pay roll holdup at the Galveston, Harrisburg & San Antonio Railroad shops, in which two men were killed and two others injured.

Police and special deputies are continuing their search for the other bandits. Shortly before noon Tuesday an attempt was made by four Mexicans to hold up two bank employes and two guards with a $14,447 pay roll at the Galveston, Harrisburg & San Antonio railroad shops here.

William Meers, chief of the guards of the El Paso branch of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, was instantly killed. Anastacio Lopez, 21, a shop employe bystander, was also killed. George H. Reed, bank employe, and C. A. Bittick, a guard, were wounded. Hospital attendants say both wounded men will recover.

W. L. Laird, teller at the American Trust and Savings Company, who was in charge of the money, probably saved his life when the bandit placed a pistol in his face and demanded him to throw up his hands, by dropping the money and running.

As the bandits left the scene of the holdup they kept firing from their pistols and rifles.

One of the unidentified bandits was wounded, according to the discovery made by police who captured the bandits' blood stained car in South El Paso shortly after the hold up.

No money was secured by the bandits.

A posse of special police officers and Deputy Sheriffs have surrounded the southern section of the city and a rigid search is being made of every house in the vicinity in the hope of locating the other bandits. Mexican authorities in Juarez have offered every assistance to the authorities here in their efforts to capture the bandits.

Fifteen Charter Commissioners Chosen at Polls

595 for and 122 against. This was the vote polled Tuesday by Mexia citizens when they expressed their opinion that a charter should be written and submitted for adoption or rejection to the voters of Mexia at another election later to be called. The fifteen whose names were printed on the ballots as charter commissioners were also favored. In some instances names were scratched and substitute names written in, but the majority for the fifteen was overwhelming.

More than four to one, favoring the charter commission, was a surprise to most everyone who had been led to believe that the opposition was pretty strong, general and organized for the election date. The vote showed that the opposition was not organized.

Now that good feeling still prevails, at the conclusion of the election, the charter commission urges that cooperation be given them in writing a suitable charter for later presentation to the people. The fifteen will organize soon, it is learned, and will likely carry the work to a conclusion as early as possible, in order that needless delay might be avoided.

FRENCH GOVERNMENT SENDS ENVOY.

MME. IRENE JEANNING. INTZ

The French Government has appointed Mme. Irene Jeanning actress of the Athene Theatre, Paris, as special envoy to the United States in the interests of French culture. She will give a series of lectures on French poets and poetry, and will read some of France's most famous poems.

Dallas Woman Dies From Nervous Strain

DALLAS, Texas, March 19.—Mrs. T. W. Woodcock, 75, died from nervous strain following the burning of her daughter's home, where she was living. Two adjoining residences were also destroyed. Total loss $15,000.

WOMAN'S MURDER PROVOKES HUNT FOR MONEY SHE LEFT

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Mar. 19.—A fortune which Dr. Zeo Zoe Wilkins, toy of wealthy men found slain in her home here was believed to have possessed, was sought by authorities today as a possible clew to the murderer.

Mrs. Wilkins, married six times, was declared by friends to have obtained large sums of money from her various husbands.

When she was divorced by Thomas S. Cunningham, wealthy banker of Joplin, she had more than $300,000 worth of stock in his bank that he had given her. She was believed to have obtained other large sums from Cunningham, as well as money and securities from her other husbands.

Examination of the room in which her body was found disclosed a pile of ashes which authorities believe resulted from burning of what the murderer believed to be the woman's will and other papers. The house had been ransacked apparently not by an ordinary burglar as valuable jewelry and clothing had been left untouched. Contents of strong boxes, chests and drawers had been scattered through out the house.

Zane Grey, the popular novelist, was a dentist in New York when he took to writing fiction.

Coolidge Ahead In North Dakota

FORGO, N. D., March 19.—President Calvin Coolidge had an expected lead of more than 2 to 1 in returns from cities early today as the presidential preference vote in North Dakota was counted.

Country precincts rapidly cut down his lead as they began coming in and Senator Hiram. Johnson supporters were confident he would win the republican preference.

Coolidge supporters were confident of victory by a substantial victory.

Senator Robert M. La Follette, "sticker" campaign, conducted in spite of the Wisconsin Senator's wishes, amounted to much more than Johnson's following anticipated, and surprised politicians generally.

With 287 precincts reported, the vite stood:

Coolidge 16,699; Johnson 8,964; La Follette 5,312.

This represented about one-sixth of the anticipated total vote cast.

Many of the most liberal districts are isolated from telephone and telegraph communication and it is doubtful if the result will be known until late today.

Indications early today were that the vote will be very close between all three candidates. La Follette was gaining as rapidly as Johnson in the country precinct returns, with the possibility of passing him.

Johnson's greatest strength is admittedly in the precincts as yet unheard, but Coolidge men felt certain he would not gain sufficiently to over come the Coolidge lead. They felt that there was a light vote in much of the back country due to weather conditions.

The total vote is expected to be around 180,000.

Mutual Company Man Quizzed By Senate Probers

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Determined to learn how much politics and oil were mixed in 1920 presidential campaign, the Senate oil committee investigated rumors that the presidency was a bribe offered in exchange for control of the nation's natural resources, questioned Colonel James G. Darden, head of Mutual Oil Company. Darden said he conferred with Fall in regard to certain lands in 1921. He denied that Daugherty sent him to Fall.

John Adams lived the longest of any of the presidents after leaving office, about 25 years.

Three Cruisers Take To Sky In World Flight

EUGENE, Oregon, March 19.—Three around the world air cruisers, headed by Major F. L. Martin, hopped off for Vancouver Barracks, Washington.

EUGENE, Ore., March 19.—Three planes of the army's round the world flight were here today ready to take off for San Point, near Seattle on the third leg of their 30,000 mile journey. Major Frederick L. Martin, commander, and Lieut. Lowell Smith reached Eugene at shortly before 4 p. m., yesterday completing a successful flight from Mather Field Sacramento.

The third flier, Lieut. Leigh Wade, started from Mather Field with Martin and Smith but was forced to land at Cottonwood, California, and did not reach Eugene until 5:30 p. m.

Wade said a pet-cock on the radiator of his machine had been left open necessitating the land. He broke a wing in a tail skid, causing additional delay.

Martin made the flight from Sacramento in six hours and seven minutes buffeted by heavy head winds.

The fliers may make a brief stop at Vancouver, Washington, today but hope to reach Sand Point before night fall if weather is favorable.

YELLOW GOLD IS POURING INTO OSAGES AT AUSTIN

PAWHUSKA, Okla., March 19.—A new record of Indian revenue was in prospect here today as the second session of the Osage Indian oil lease auction got under way.

Various tracts, believed to conceal potentialities beyond computation, were the center of interest and oil representative of the world lay in wait for their introduction on the block.

Yellow gold in concrete form poured into the lap of Osage tribesmen in exchange for "black gold" possibilities at the close of the opening day of the lease auction when a world's record lease sale was chalked up at $1,955,000. The total revenue of the day amounted to $8,352,000 with approximately half of the 103,000 acres over the block.

Scores of solemn Indians, the direct beneficiaries of auction were perhaps the least moved, but they dropped their equanimity temporarily and cheered wildly with their white brethren when last sales record price of $1,600,000 was surpassed.

Smoking was tabooed in the crowded theatre where Colonel E. Walter, wearing his $150 hand carved knee boots told the virtues of the lands and admonished the bidders they were not dealing in "cotton patches."

"Shoot or give up the gun" was his prod when bidding dragged. Chewing gum vendors did a land office business while soft drink salesmen were a close second.

Oklahoma Gripped By Big now Storm

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., March 19.—Oklahoma was in the grip of another unseasanable snow storm today. A heavy wet snow with little wind started falling here early today and four inches covered the ground at day break. Indications are that the storm has reached northern Texas. Rail and wire communications were unhampered, according to wire officials here.

J. M. Roberts, of Corsicana, was in the city Monday.

THE EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

THE GROWING SPIRIT OF IRREVERENCE

The Texas Christian Advocate

We are not unaccustomed to the hue and cry that is raised ever and anon about the irreverence of the day in which we live. The claim is not made that lack of reverence is an attitude which has been assumed only by this generation—unfortunately its roots are embedded in the soil of the past. The thing that should give us concern is the fact that instead of exorcising the spirit of irreverence there are indications that it is being allowed to grow. Hence we are not to think of the cry that is raised about it as the mere mouthings of alarmists. The charge has about it too much of the semblance of truth for comfort. There is little solace in the fact that those of other days were irreverent nor is there any satisfaction in the thought that we are no better than our fathers were, if indeed we are as good.

Indications of the growing spirit of irreverence may be found in the way we value the things which have come to us out of the past. So insistent has been the demand that we advance with an advancing world that we have scarcely had time to lay proper emphasis on our inheritance. To be sure no one can hope to get very far in this work-a-day-world and live with his thought continually in the past. Nobody wants to do that; nobody would be so foolish as to urge it. But it is out of the past that the present has come; and it is out of the present that the future will be made, and what is now present will then be history, more or less ancient, according to the view point. But without proper respect for the institutions and ideals which have come into the present from the past, it will be utterly impossible to safely meet the requirements of this day.

The growing spirit of irreverence is to be observed in the loose ideas which are prevalent as to the sanctity of the Sabbath; in the frivolous and immoral literature which comes to so many with such an importunate appeal and which is read, absorbed and re-lived in the lives of so large a per cent of the people that one dreads to think of it; and in the immodest dress which is fashion's decree. There is an unending stream flowing into the picture shows, dance halls, and places of amusement and the trail to the divorce court has become a broad way and many are traveling it. There is a connection not difficult to trace between the growing spirit of irreverence and the destructive criticism of the Scriptures. No people could long hold in esteem the Church and the Word, both of which condemn their inconsistencies when there is constantly being raised about that Word questions that strike at its authority and authenticity.

We have at hand today many facilities for communication and entertainment. The automobile, telephone, radio, movie and many other interesting and attractive features of our modern life have helped us, by our unwise and imprudent use of them, to lose some of our respect for the ancient things of truth and duty and to over-emphasize the value and importance of mechanical attractions and appliances. The way out is exactly where we started in. It is the business of the Church member to live true to his vows. In proportion as we do this will there come a change in our mental outlook, and a revising of the estimates which we have made. If every Church member would do his duty daily, the growing spirit of irreverence would be exorcised and there would be evident more sane and healthful view.

Letters from People

MEXIA AS VIEWED BY AN INSURANCE UNDERWRITER

Editor of the Mexia Daily News:

Mexia today is stepping in the path of success from every standpoint. She is looming up as a brilliant light to all the world. When we consider the educational and religious facilities and the willingness of her citizenship to cooperate with these and other institutions we can realize that Mexia is just at her dawning. Organizations of various kinds in Mexia are waking up to their chance of accomplishments and are endeavoring to win the confidence and good will of the surrounding country. I would suggest we go after a sure enough county fair. Mexia is in a position to offer valuable prizes for all the lines of produce that come from Mother earth. This would encourage farmers to plant better seed and raise better stock and poultry and all eyes would be turned toward Mexia every year for this event. Watch Mexia Grow.

DAVIDSON AT SAN ANTONIO

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, March 19.—Lynch Davidson, Houston candidate for the governorship of Texas will deliver an address here tonight. The address will mark the beginning of Davidson's campaign in this section.

Coeur de Lion Commandery, Knights Templar, held its regular meeting Tuesday night with a large attendance of members from Teague, Wortham and Mexia, together with several visitors. The Orders of the Temple were conferred on four Knights of Malta, and several new petitions were received.

BRENHAM, Texas, March 17.—Henry Meshiwitz, 21, is dead, and Ernest Valenta is in a serious condition following an auto accident in which they ran their machine off a steep embankment near here.

Lone Star Wesley Bible Class Holds Social Meeting

The members of the Lone Star Wesley Bible Class enjoyed a social meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Duke Pittman with Mesdames Wagner, Fayle, Newberry, Riddle, Measles and Akin as cohostesses. The color scheme of green and white with the emblems of Saint Patrick was effectively used in decorating the house and in the dainty refreshments that were served.

A program consisting of readings by future members of this class was a pleasing feature; these little folks were: Mary Jane Crow, Alma Louise Riddle and Dorothy Cogdell. Musical numbers by Mrs. Werner, and a negro dialect reading by Mrs. Landrum completed the program.

The time that everyone had long expected had now arrived—the revealing of the Sunshine Sisters. Much merriment was caused by these announcements.

A short business session, with Miss Julia Kauhl, as president of the class, in charge, resulted in certain definite plans being formulated in regard to the young lady, an orphan, that this class is helping to support at Texas Woman's College.

The class was pleased to welcome as a visitor, Mrs. E. H. Hudson, wife of the pastor of the First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. W. B. Landrum.

Next Sunday evening, March, 23rd, at 8 o'clock a special program will be given at the First Methodist church. Mrs. W. B. Landrum will give a reading of "The Other Wise Man," a beautiful story by Henry Van Dyke. Special musical numbers are being arranged by the choir. The public is cordially invited to attend this service.

This 300 Pound Man Has Good Understanding

BRAZOS, Texas, March 19.—T. E. Sarrett, 300 pound farmer of this section is understood to have the best "understanding" of any man in Texas.

Sarrett modestly claims his feet are the biggest in the state.

He avers at the same time that his shoes, made to order, cost him $45 a pair at a Fort Worth shop.

The big farmer's feet measure 19½ inches from heel to toe. His instep is 14¾ inches and his ankle 12⅝ inches.

But He Finally Came To Trial

HOUSTON, Texas, March 19.—When Frank Pellerin was called to trial here recently on assault charges it was discovered that assault was committed 1900 years ago if the indictment was to be believed.

When read to the court the document was dated A. D. 23.

After the date was changed to 1923 the trial proceeded and Pellerin was freed.

Slip-On Blouse with Raglan Sleeves.

Stunning for the Sportswoman.

The side-closing slip-on blouse is one of the newest and most fascinating vagaries of fashion. Here is a Paris model with collar and long sleeves which can be used for other than sports wear.

The sportswoman is a prettier picture than ever this season in her new overblouse and plaid skirt. Smart Parisiennes are wearing with enthusiasm just now a blouse of the type pictured here, which may be developed in the silk knits, in jersey or in the heavy satin-backed crepes or silk-flannels. The manufacturers seem to have been particularly generous in their offerings of materials for sports wear.

The collar of the blouse is convertible and the opening is at one side. Because the method of fastening is unusual it is emphasized by attractive buttons. The sleeve extensions may be either flowing or closefitting, the latter style being illustrated.

When an extension is planned for a kimono sleeve it should always be put on with a lap seam (Fig. I). For a lap seam, first make a plain seam on the under side of the garment, and press to one side. On the right side of the blouse make a one-eighth inch fold of the material and baste the fold so that it entirely covers the seam line. Stitch the fold down, making the stitching exactly on the seam line.

This blouse may be converted into a dressy model by making it of crepe or satin, using contrasting material for the collar. By slashing the sleeve extensions and facing them with the material used for the collar, it takes on a dressy effect that is irresistible.

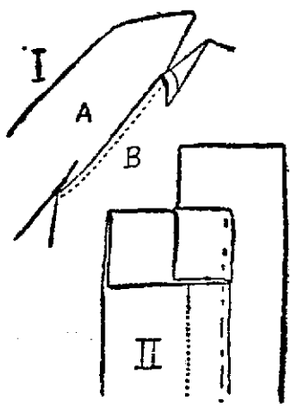

Fig. I—The Raglan Sleeve.
Fig. II—Making a Lap Seam.

To join the cuff to the fitted sleeve, fold the upper edges of cuff pieces one-fourth of an inch to wrong side. Stitch around the lower edge and ends, then turn the right side out. Slip the gathered lower edge of the sleeve between the cuff pieces, baste under piece, then upper piece, and stitch.

TRAINING CAMP NOTES

CLEARWATER, Fla.—Brooklyn may pass on one of the regular catchers to the St. Louis Cardinals for Milton Stock if the Cards do not get Young Gibson from the Boston Braves, it was reported at the camp today.

NEW ORLEANS.—While it was raining at the Yankee training camp, all the excitement was created by Babe Ruth who lost a $1,000 bill. The Babe started to the bank with four of them and when he got there he had only three.

SARASOTA, Fla.Condition of Heinie Groh is beginning to cause the Giants veterans concern. Groh, who was operated on, has been unable to do any heavy work.

LAKELAND, Fla.—An infected foot will keep Rube Lutzke, Indian third-sacker, out of today's game with the Cincinnati Reds.

AUGUSTA, Ga.—The Tigers adjourned after routine practice and went to a barbecue put on for them by a local club.

CATALIAN, Cal.—The Chicago Cubs are preparing to leave here tomorrow for Los Angeles where three games are to be played with Vernon Tigers and the Los Angeles team.

BRADENTOWN, Fla.—The failure of Frank Chance, manager of the Chicago White Sox to appear, has started discussion of whether the "Peerless Leader" will be in harness this year.

BRADENTOWN, Fla.—Ernie Vick, catcher with Houston last year, will be a member of the Cards this year, Branch Rickey announced. Harry McCurdy, Clyde Barfoot and Johnny Kane, all of the Cardinals camp, will play with Houston this year. The Giants play the Cards today.

Prayer meeting services will be held in all local churches tonight at 7:45. The public is cordially invited.

Virginia Lady Says That Many of Her Long-Suffered Ills Have Fled Since She Took Cardui.

Bristol, Va.—"I can sleep good at night now, something I have never done before in my life," says Mrs. Deala Hawks, of 712 Prospect St., this city, "and it is due to Cardui.

"I was always nervous and tossed when I should have been asleep, but since I took Cardui it has strengthened me, and my general health is so improved that many of the ills from which I have suffered for years have fled. . .

"I used to go to bed tired and, when I would get up in the morning, I was still tired. Now I feel like doing a day's work in my garden or in the house, and I owe all this good health to Cardui, for I had suffered for years until I took it.

"I had had female trouble for years and once, for six months, I was flat on my back. I am glad to recommend to other women a medicine which has helped me."

If you are nervous and run-down in health, suffering as Mrs. Hawks describes above, it is probable that Cardui will greatly help you. Try it.

A Blouse That Sets the Fashion

Embroidery Adds Zest to This Model

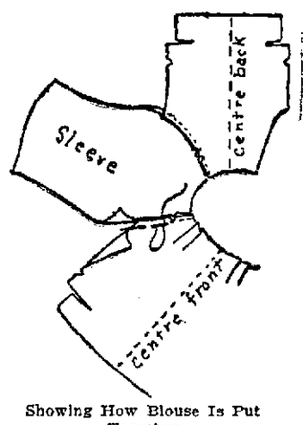
This model sets, rather than follows the fashion in blouses. As an integral part of the season's three-piece costume it is unequalled for beauty and smartness.

Here is the latest Paris version of a fashionable blouse—simple lines, beautiful material and original trimming. It has raglan sleeves and the lower side edges are slashed and gathered so that when they are attached to the upper edges, a hip-band is formed.

The decoration of the model is in Chinese pattern—the coloring being bright and joyous on a background of stone gray. Blue, brown, dark green and black also form artistic foundations for the brilliant Chinese colorings, and, of course, one could not find a more satisfactory material than crepe for an overblouse. This design calls for two yards of silk at least 36 inches wide.

The diagram shows how exceedingly simple is the waist model. There are no seams either at the front or the back and it is an exceedingly easy matter to set in the raglan sleeves with a plain or a fell seam. At either side of the front there are two hand-run tucks and the neck is bound with a bias fold of its own material. The Chinese hieroglyphics are done in flat satin stitch and this stitch is also used for the motifs at the lower front of the blouse and on the sleeves. Combined with the latter, however, are darning stitches worked into irregular lines that emphasize the beauty of the Chinese work while connecting it with the needlework of the western world.

There are many little accessories that go with the separate overblouse this season—bracelets, ear-rings, etc.



Showing How Blouse Is Put Together

They are made of various minerals and metals and usually repeat the colors of the garment with which they are worn. Many of the bracelets affected by very smart women are imported directly from China, which does not necessarily mean that they are expensive.

About thirty members of the American Legion and the Auxiliary met at the Legion Hall Tuesday night for a most enjoyable evening. R. B. Andrews, Principal of the High School, presided with enthusiasm and presented the girls quartet of the Mexia High School Glee Club as a special attraction, which was received with generous applause. Mrs. W. B. Landrum gave two raedings, which were likewise enjoyed. Garland Adair, of The News, discussed "Objections to the Legion and Their Answer." Following the program, Post Commander Owen F. Watkins took charge and an informal hour was spent in the club rooms relating war time experiences and planning for the future.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kennedy returned from Childers, Texas, on the noon train Wednesday accompanied by Mrs. Kennedy's father, J. W. Minnick from Sante Fe, New Mexico, where they have been attending the funeral of W. F. Minnick, a brother of Mrs. Kennedy, who was buried there Tuesday.

Jesse McLendon Wears Millinery For Gusher Club

Jesse Mcendon and Jake Thompson, arm in arm, braved the dripping clouds this morning, winning $20.00 for the Mexia Gushers.

Although Mr. McLendon is said to be in such poor health that he has to have his barber come to his office to shave him, he accepted a challenge made during the rainy part of the morning to wear Miss Cathereene Mc Grail's hat a couple of blocks down the street to the Weelh Motor company and return. For doing this he was to receive 20. with which to purchase the lady's millinery and she in turn agreed to give the proceeds to the baseball club. No soner had the agreement been made and John Phillips and J. K. Thompson put up their money when Mr. McLendon, locked arms with Mr. Thompson and their two block tour was on. Mr. Thompson enjoyed the joke hugely as did everyone else who witnessed the unusual spectacle. Mr. McLendon was terribly embarrassed thruout the proceedings, but he was sure that he was doing a real service for the Gushers. e visited quite a number of concerns while thus decorated. The money was released immediately after he ha dwon and the affair attarcted to his office, Dr. R. B. Jackson, who was not to be out done by Mr. McLendon, in loyalty to the club, so he chipped in $20.00 to match that which had been provided for the Gushers by the incident.

There were many who agreed that Mr. McLendon was better looking in the borrowed hat than any he had ever before worn, but that fact does not encourage him in the adoption of any such gorgeousness for head gear, except when he can make a little ready money for the club, which needs all the support it can get.

Baptised on His Deathbed; Wins Jewish Burial

WARSAW (By Mail to United Press.)—A curious "cause celebre" has come to an end here with the burial of Raphael Felsenkranz in the Jewish cemetery.

Felsenkranz, an orthodox Jew, and for many years editor of the Assekuranz Zeitung, died recently, aged 71. He had a daughter who became converted to Christianity and adopted the Polish name of Lilia Wojciechowska. When her father was dying she decided that he should die in the Christian faith, so she had him baptized while unconscious on his deathbed.

Then she was smitten with remorse and hurried off to the chief rabbi of Warsaw and asked him to re-admit her father to the Jewish faith. The chief rabbi hurried with her to the house. But they were too late. The old editor had passed on.

Then came the question where the remains were to be placed. The Jewish community ruled that as he had been baptised he belonged to the Christian burial ground; the distressed family appealed to the secular authorities, who replied that they could not overrule the Jewish community. Then the family carried the appeal to the Rabbinical Council, which decided that Felsenkranz had never consciously abjured the faith of his fathers and was entitled to Jewish burial. So after eight days of intense public discussion the old editor was laid to rest in the Jewish burial ground.

SPORTLIGHTS
By BUTLER

The Pioneer Newsies put up a good game Sunday afternoon, taking into consideration the fact that they opposed a team of much older and more experienced players. The score stood 18 to 11.

Thanks are due Hardy Eubanks for his successful efforts in securing the best schedule for the Mexia Gushers during the coming season that the club has ever had. For the first time since the club was organized games have been secured for the fourth of July on the home grounds. Other than that the schedule has been most conveniently arranged with no long periods during which the team will play away from home. Out of 18 Sunday games, also, thirteen will be played here.

At the meeting in the office of Jesse McLendon Saturday afternoon the Mexia Baseball Club cancelled their contract with the Goldsmith Company for baseballs and signed one with the Rawlings people. Much trouble was experienced last year with the Goldsmith balls which are understood to be especially made for the grass diamonds of the big leagues and proved very unsatisfactory for skinpromises to give entir ned diamonds. The Rawlings ball promises to give entire satisfaction.

T. L. Gray, a rookie from Howe, reported Monday for a try out with the Gushers. If this weather continues fair he should have a chance to show his stuff before long.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The proposed return heavyweight title match between Jack Dempsey and Tommy Gibbons, which Tex Rickard planned to stage in the metropolitant district early in June, was called off tonight by the promoter after a conference he had with Jack Kearns, the champion's manager.

Abandonment of the bout, forecast several days ago, was due to a motion picture contract which Dempsey has accepted and which will keep him busy until some time in July. Rickard said Kearns told him the financial inducements offered for movie work were greater than those held out for a return battle with Gibbons.—Dallas News.

Possibly financial inducements are not the only inducement having weight in the matter. The Movie bug seems to be no respector of person. Evidently the heavyweight championship berth is developing into a genuine white collar job.

Here is the lineup of the Everyboys Club. As we understand it the club is open to all boys in the town, certain age limits being followed:

Catcher, O. Masters; pitchers, J. Gamble; first base, W. Wiggins; second base, Ray Pogh; third base, M. Masters; short stop, E. Wiggins; right field, Sam Sewell; left field, L. P. Mackey; center field, Roscoe Ross.

This club played Pioneer Newsies baseball team Sunday afternoon defeating that team in fifteen innings by a score of 18 to 11. Joe Gamble made a good showing in the box during the game.

The Horn Hill basketball team defeated the Willow Springs team in a game played on the Horn Hill court Friday of last week the score being 32 to 4. A good way to close the season alright.

The First Methodist cagers representing the Corsicana Sunday School Basketball League in the tournament which was held at the Corsicana Y. M. C. A. Saturday night for the title of the State won both games and fought a winning fight for the State title among the Sunday Schools of Texas. The Corsicana Cagers won over the Waco team decisively, forcing them to carry off the small end of a 22-6 score. They then defeated the Dallas Cliff-Temple Baptist team with a count of 37 to 19.

The Hubbard high school Wildcats baseball nine will open their official season with a game against the West High school Sluggers at West, Tuesday afternoon in the event that the weather conditions permit. Hubbard is handicaped by a scarcity of pitching talent, though the team is said to boast several hardhitters who may offset this disadvantage.

Marlin and Temple will not have Sunday Baseball. This is very much to the liking to the fans in the other cities in the league (especially Corsicana) who will have more Sunday games.

Manager Williams of the Pioneer Newsies announced that after the Sunday exhibition game which his club lost to the Everyboys Club he believes that he knows just exactly where his players should be placed and will make some changes in the line up in order to fill out the weak spots. He stated that he is well satisfied with the showing that his boys made against the larger boys and is confident that the Pioneers will beat the Everyboys after they have gone through general training. With the Newsies uniforms on the road he said that he expects a better showing from his boys. Which is true alright, for the boys like to wear uniforms and gain more confidence in doing so.

The Mexia High Black Cats Baseball team will open the season here next Friday afternoon when they meet the Kosse nine on Nowlin Park. The game will be called at 3:30. From the showing of the team in the stiff workouts which Coach Poteet has been putting them through the Black Cats ought to bear off the large end of the score. While bad weather has interfered with practice it must be remembered that the Kosse team has experienced the same handicap and errors due to lack of practice should about balance.

Tuberculosis Menace In Germany Certain Unless Kin of Sufferers Dispatch Relief Without Delay

Germany has been characterized by no less distinguished an authority than Dr. Haven Emerson, former Commissioner of Health of New York City and an authority on community health, as "a perfect organization for the spread of tuberculosis." Dr. Emerson made this statement recently on his return from a tour of Germany, made at the request of the American Committee for the Relief of German Children, of which Major-General Henry T. Allen is chairman, for the purpose of learning the truth about distress in that country.

The accompanying photograph shows graphically why these once healthy people are becoming prey to dread diseases. The pinch of poverty has compelled them to acquire more cramped and squalid living quarters and, compelled as they are to subsist on meagre rations, it is not long before their bodies give way to the strain upon them.

The couple shown are of the middle class, the husband a clerk, and in former years were comfortably housed and fed on his earnings. Now they find difficulty in procuring food of any sort and are dependent absolutely upon outside assistance if they are to be saved from illness and possible death.

It is the purpose of the American Committee to provide relief through its funds only for children, hence the financial burden of caring for adults must be assumed by others who have an interest in the grown-ups. For this reason the committee has established a food package department, through which persons in America who have relatives or friends in any part of Germany may, by paying ten dollars, assure the delivery to them of 110 pounds of substantial American food, including 49 pounds of flour, 25 pounds of rice, 10 pounds of sugar, 8 pounds of cooking fats, 3 pounds of cocoa and 24 one-pound tins of evaporated milk. The packages are insured and transported without cost in Germany by the government there.

What such a contribution would mean to the man and wife shown in the above photograph is obvious. A package would last them for weeks with judicious use and might save them from serious illness

Applications may be made either in person or by mail to the Food Package Department, American Committee for Relief of German Children, 42 Broadway, New York.

Freestone County Gets New Oil Test

Hall and Hodges of Houston have for over two years for certain acreage whereby they could get the right location for another test. This new test is located one-half mile north of the old Coleman well and is thought by Messers Hall and Hodges to be the very best location obtainable. The J. K. Hughes Developing Company, The Simms Oil Company and others have secured acreage near this test.

a derrick up and will in the next few days move machinery to location for a test on the A. E. Gaddy farm 4 miles East of the Currie field. These same gentlemen were interested in the Coleman test about two years ago in which a good showing of oil was had. In fact it looked so good to these men that they have worked and waited

Management of Publications of High School to Work with Advertisers in Presenting Pageant March the 28th

By G. W. EVANS

The management of the High School Publications will give a program Friday evening, March 28, in appreciation of our advertisers. The program will be along the line of an advertisers pageant in which each advertiser will be given representatives from the student body. These representatives will display any special article that the advertiser wishes to feature.

If there are any of our advertisers that we have failed to see, they will confer a favor on us by calling at once. Those who have not definitely decided just what they have intended to feature will make their plans and notify us by not later than Thursday noon. We would be glad to render any assistance in a way of suggestion to our advertisers who are in doubt as to the best methods of display.

In order to make this program a success and give every one a square deal the following conditions are outlined:

1. Must be an advertiser in one of the High School Publications.
2. Must use high school students as representatives.
3. The advertiser will furnish his representatives with material that he is to feature. All material to be returned to advertiser.
4. Firms featuring ready-to-wear will be given three minutes.
5. Admission Free.

Mexia Cagers Get Trophies

The letter men of the Mexia Black Cat Basket Ball squad were presented with gold basket balls during assembly at the High School building Monday afternoon by Superintendent C. A. Puckett. The day basket balls were emblamatic of the services rendered to the team were decorated with a raised M.

Those who received the trophies were: Captain Lucas, Captain elect Treadway, Dick Buford, Loy (Dutch) Cox, and Machon Forrest.

A St. Patrick's Day Social was enjoyed by a large number of the young folks of the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Christian Church at the church Monday night. The program consisted of songs, informal association, during which refreshments were served. The decorations were truly St. Patrick.

Says Red Pepper Heat Stops Pain In Few Minutes

Rheumatism, lumbago, neuritis, backache, stiff neck, sore muscles, strains, sprains, aching joints. When you are suffering so you can hardly get around, just try Red Pepper Rub.

Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers, and when heat penetrates right down into pain and congestion relief comes at once.

Just as soon as you apply Red Pepper Rub you feel the tingling heat. In three minutes the sore spot is warmed through and through and the torture is gone.

Rowles Red Pepper Rub, made from red peppers, costs little at any drug store. Get a jar at once. Be sure to get the genuine, with the name Rowles on every package.—(Adv.)

Healing Cream Stops Catarrh

If your nostrils are clogged and your head stuffed because of catarrh or a cold, get Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. Apply a little of this pure, antiseptic, germ destroying cream into your nostrils and let it penetrate through every air passage of your head and membranes. Instant relief.

How good it feels. Your head is clear. Your nostrils are open. You breathe freely. No more hawking or snuffling. Head colds and catarrh yield like magic. Don't stay stuffed up, choked up and miserable. Relief is sure.—(Adv.)

INSECT PESTS COST NATION $2,000,000,000 EVERY YEAR

By S. W. STRAUS

President American Society for Thrift

FEW of us realize, perhaps, that our nation is today at war with an enemy as relentless as any human foe could be. This condition of warfare costs us $2,000,000,000 annually. Between 10 and 20 per cent of our crops are destroyed by insects. Each of us pays a tribute of nearly $20 a year to these pests.

S. W. STRAUS

And the menace is steadily increasing!

No less an authority than L. O. Howard, chief of teh Bureau of Entomology, Department of Agriculture, frankly states that "damage by insects is growing greater."

What has been called officially a "Hindenburg Line" has been established from Long Island to Canada as part of the effort to check the Westward march of the gypsy moth.

Equally vigorous defensive warfare is being carried on in the Central States to prevent the corn-borer from reaching the great corn-belt of America. This pest, which came originally from Hungary and Southern Russia, has reached the lake borders of Ohio and Michigan. In New Jersey and Eastern Pennsylvania the Japanese beetle has laid waste fruit, vegetables and forests in an area of 770 square miles. Relentless warfare, costing millions of dollars, alone can prevent its spread to other sections.

The San Jose scale, Hessian fly, Mediterranean fruit-fly, green bug, chinch bug, cloverseed midge and a hundred other species of destructive insects exist in this country, each of which, we are told causes a damage of hundreds of thousands of dollars annually. Moreover, each of these species may become the source of incalculable loss if not held in check through incessant vigilance.

There is a glorious lesson in citizenship to be learned from this situation. Were it not for the solid and orderly organization of government and its attendant scientific activities these insects would destroy our food supply and force each of us to fight for life itself.

Municipal councils in Anatolia have reduced the cost of the Turkish marriage ceremony to put it within reach of the poorest peasant.

The yellow fever mosquito, one of the commonest household mosquitoes in the Gulf States, has been shown to be responsible also for carrying dengue or "breakbone" fever.

The history of mirror making in England dates from 1670.

Cause of Pimples Explained

It is easy to understand why so many people never have been able to get rid of their pimples, blotches, bumps, and other skin troubles, which keep them from being attractive, when you consider that few of them know what is causing them, and naturally don't know when they are not doing the right thing to get rid of them.

So called skin diseases are caused by poisons from the perspiration becoming congested in the tiny pores and glands of the skin because they can't get out. Unhealthy skin holds them back and you know what must happen when you continue to let this condition exist. For this reason "skin lotions," etc., can't possibly help you any. You need what is known as Black and White Ointment which heals the sores, builds up the tissue of the skin, makes it active, so it naturally expels all the acid poisons which the system must throw off through the pores. Then pimples, blotches, "breaking out," eczema, etc., quickly disappear.

Black and White Ointment is economically priced in generous packages. The 50c size contains three times as much as the 25c size. All dealers have it.—(Adv.)

Longhorn Band Carries Special Orchestra of Twelve Pieces On Tour Bringing Them to This City

AUSTIN, Texas, March 19.—The University of Texas Longhorn Band and Premier Entertainers will carry a special theatre orchestra of twelve pieces on the annual nine day state tour of the organization, March 18 to 27. Included in the personnel of the orchestra will be Miss Dorthy Dumars of Houston, who will also appear on the program as a soloist, and later with "Bus" Edens of Hillsboro for a second musical number.

Two overtures will feature by the orchestra during the concert, the first one being "Balle Egyptian" ,by A. Luigini. The second overture will be "You5re in Love" by Rudolf Friml, and special selections will be played upon request.

Members of the orchestra are Geo. S. Burham, violin, of Sweetwater; Miss Dorothy Dumars of Houston, piano; Harold A. Corey, picolo, of San Antonio; Rudolph Sippola, and Harry Hauser, clarinet, of Mercedes and Galveston; Royal Calder and Clel Silvey, cornet, both of Austin; A. J. Martin, oboe of San Antonio; Billy Laurie, horn, of Austin; S. W. Ruff, trombone, of Austin; Frank Cole, bass of Franklin; and Jess Daniels, drum, of Brownwood.

MEXIA CIRCUIT QUARTERLY CONFERENCE NEXT SUNDAY

The Second Quarterly Conference of the Mexia Methodist Circuit will be held at Datura next Sunday, March 23rd. An all day session will be held, which promises to be one of the inspirational and red letter days in the history of the circuit. Every appointment on the charge is expected to be well represented and splendid reports are expected. The conference was to have been held several weeks ago but was rained out. Rev. C. A. Bickley, Presiding Elder of the Corsicana District, will preside. There will be dinner on the ground.

THE FOUNDATIONS ARE RIGHT

Enormous weights day after day, year after year are safely carried by our gigantic bridges because of one fact—the foundations are right.

To build a modern bank, a bank that safely carries full weight of business responsibility year after year, calls for the same thing—right foundations.

Why not let this bank bridge you over your business perplexities?

TheOther Roosevelt As Told by Himself

Rare, indeed, is the person who can remain unmoved when an almost forgotten chapter of the great man's life is suddenly revealed in all the clairty of its influence upon his entire career.

What would Roosevelt have been without the fullest use of the most precious of his senses? How would that amazing energy and almost boundless vitality have been expended except for the help that was given with the aid of glasses? Virtually every crown of Roosevelt's career was won through the physical and mental radius that eye-glasses gave him. There could never have been the Roosevelt of magnificient destiny without that little appurtenance—a pair of eyeglasses! Read the story in his own words:

"Quite unknown to myself, I was, while a boy, under a hopeless disadvantage in studying nature. I was very near-sighted, so that the only things I could study were those I ran against or stumbled over. . . . It was this summer that I got my first gun, and it puzzled me that my companions seemed to see things to shoot at which I could not see at all.

"One day they read aloud an advertisement in huge letters on a distant billboard, and I then realized that something was the matter, for not only was I unable to read the sign but I could not even see the letters. I spoke to my father, and soon afterwards got my first pair of spectacles, which literally opened a new world to me.

"I had no idea how beautiful the world was until I got those spectacles. I had been a clumsy and awkward little boy and while much of my clumsiness and awkardness was doubtless due to general characteristics, a good deal of it was due to the fact that I could not see and yet was wholly ignorant that I was not seeing.

"The recollection of this experience gives me a keen sympathy with those who are trying in our public schools and elsewhere to remove the physical causes of deficiency in children, who are often unjustly blamed for being obstinate or unambitious or mentally stupid." (From "Theodore Roosevelt"; An Autobiography, page 22, copyright, Charles Scribner's Sons, Publishers.)

Pioneer Newsies Sign Agreement

The following is an agreement that the boys who are to play for the Pioneer Ball team which E. J. Ormsby, owner of the Pioneer News Stand, is sponsoring and Harry Williams is managing. Twelve boys have already signed the agreement.

I will report every time practice is called.

I will be on hand on time for every game.

I will play any position on the team that I may be called on to fill to the best of my ability.

I will obey the manager in every respect.

I will not holler at or bawl out any player on my team for a poor play.

I will try to encourage every player to win.

I will not swear.

I will not throw my glove at a ball or player.

I will take care of my uniform.

I will always try to keep my eye on the ball.

I will always try to guard our property, such as baseballs, gloves and bats, as if they were my own.

I will be a good loser and not fight with any player on the ball diamond without permission from the manager.

SHERIFF'S SALE

The State of Texas, County of Limestone.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of a certain Order of Sale issued out of the Honorable District Court of Limestone County, of the 6th day of March, 1924, by the District Clerk, of said Limestone County, for the sum of Seven Hundred Sixty-Two 30-100 ($762.30) Dollars and costs of suit, under a Vendor's Lien, in favor of Wm. M. Rice Institute, in a certain cause in said Court, No. 4190-B and styled Wm M. Rice Institute vs. J. E. Frost, John S. Prince, and F. W. Woodward, placed in my hands for service, I, Whit Popejoy, as Sheriff of Limestone County, County, Texas, did, on the 8th. day of March 1924, levy on certain Real Estate, situated in Limestone County, Texas, described as follows, to wit: Upon Lot No. 5 in Block No. 38, in the City of Mexia, according to the map of said City drawn by C. E. Davis, a copy of which is recorded in Vol. 52, page 621, deed records of Limestone County, Texas, and levied upon as the property of J. E. Frost, John S. Prince and F. W. Woodward, and that on the first Tuesday in April 1924, the same being the 1st day of said month, at the Court House door, of Limestone County, in the Town of Groesbeck, Texas, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m., by virtue of said levy and said Order of Sale, I will sell said above described Real Estate at public vendue, for cash, to the highest bidder, as the property of said J. E. Frost, John S. Prince and F. W. Woodward.

And in compliance with law, I give this notice by publication, in the English language, once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale, in the Mexia Daily News, a newspaper published in Limestone County.

Witness my hand, this 8th day of March, 1924.

WHIT POPEJOY,
Sheriff, Limestone
County, Texas.

HOW AMERICAN CARDINALS WILL RECEIVE RED HATS.

Above are shown an exterior and an interior view of St. Peter's Cathedral, in the Vatican at Rome, which Pope Pius XI. has designated as the scene of the public consistory at which he will bestow the red hats of Cardinals upon Archbishops Patrick J. Hayes, of New York, and George W. Mundelein, of Chicago. Following the brilliant ceremony, the newly created Cardinals will dine with the Pope in the dining hall of the Vatican. A previous session of the Sacred College of Cardinals, during which the red hat was bestowed, is pictured. The elevation of the American Cardinals will be of exactly similar a character.

MEN AND WOMEN WHO FIGURE IN THE NEWS OF THE DAY.

Above: HARRY K. THAW, MRS. JAMES A. STILLMAN. Below: MAL DAUGHERTY, MRS. ME HAMILTON, GASTON B. MEANS.

Gaston B. Means, former Department of Justice investigator, told an amazing story of alleged bribery to a Senatorial Investigating Committee in Washington. Mal Daugherty, Washington Court House, O., banker, was summoned as a witness before the same committee, which is investigating the actions of his brother, Attorney General Daugherty. Tewfik Pasha, Minister of Home Affairs in the Nationalist Government of Turkey, is reported to have been assassinated. With the consent of his mother, Harry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White, world famous architect, has instituted proceedings to have himself declared sane and released from the Pennsylvania Hospital for Mental and Nervous Diseases in Philadelphia. Thaw is now in his mother's Pittsburgh home on parole. Mrs. Anne Urquhart Stillman, wife of James A. Stillman, former president of the National City Bank of New York, America's greatest financial institution, won a signal victory in the divorce suit instituted by her husband, who sought to show that Baby Guy Stillman was the son of Fred Beauvais, a Canadian Indian guide. The courts have ruled that the child is legitimate and that Stillman, himself guilty of misconduct, cannot have a divorce. Mrs. Mary E. Hamilton, head of New York City's women police, has picked a dozen of her best-looking operatives and started them out on a crusade against mashers. She ordered them to scratch up every male flirt, and asked every woman approached to do the same thing. If her finger nails aren't sharp, she urged women to use hatpins.

Otherwise He Was All Right

ORANGE, Texas, March 19.—Of all the human wrecks who come to Francis Ann Lutcher hospital for repairs, Bill Williams, negro, was the most badly battered.

Bill's hat blew off and when he chased it down the street he collided with an automobile with the result:

His skull was fractured, his left leg was fractured, his collar bone was broken, his ankle was broken, his arm crushed, his wrist smashed, he was cut about the face and body and injured internally.

But he'll recover, doctors say.

GLEE CLUB ENTERTAINMENT TO BE GIVEN APRIL 4TH

The High School Glee Club program which had been planned to be held Friday night, March the 21st, has been postponed until the night of April the 4th. This change was announced Wednesday, in deference to the Longhorn Band concert which will be given at the Opera House Monday night, March the 24th.

CHICAGO.—A fight between Tom Gibbons and Georges Carpentier this summer, either at Benton Harbor or Michigan City is being discussed here. Eddie Kane, manager of Gibbons, said he would sign up if Floyd Fitzsimmons, promoter, who claims to have the Frenchman's signature to a fight, can show whether the fight can be staged.

PARIS.—Ted (Kid) Lewis defeated Francis Charles, French middleweight champion in 15 rounds on points.

URBANA, Ill.—Tommy Gibbons of St. Paul will meet Bill Hart here tomorrow night.

Jack pine, a tree growing in the southern part of Maine, has been found growing on an island in Lobster lake, thirty miles farther north than it has ever been noted before.

Red-haired women are said to suffer less from serious diseases than darker women.

PATTERSON'S COLUMN

I never was a hand to pick
A quarrel out of fate;
I've taken what it handed me,
And up to present date
I think I've had about as much
Of happiness and cheer
As I have had of mournfulness
And joyless days and drear.

The matter with us most it seems
We blindly go our way,
A planning happiness in dreams
Forgetting that today
Was yesterday the future
And will dead tomorrow be,
And really that tomorrow
Is a time we never see.

So though I have no wealth to give,
A deed my take its place.
My prayer is this: That I may live
So time can never trace
An unjust act toward any man
I meet along the way,
But let me help him if I can,
And do it now—today!

—Patterson.

Boys Reading Club Perfects Its Organization

The Boy's Reading Club of Sumpter Street School prefected its organization Wednesday morning at the Public Library when the Constitution was presented by Tommie Randolph and adopted by the members.

The club has recently been organized and meets each Wednesday morning at the Library. Its object as set forth in the constitution is "to make the members acquainted with a large number of good books."

The club members were given a month's membership at the library by Mrs. Georgia Bergeron, and it is the plan of the club to read as widely in the field of good books as possible.

Besides the books the individual members are reading, there are seven books selected each week to be read by the entire club. This week's list includes the following: In the Great Wild North, The Iroquois Scout, Two Years Before the Mast, Robin Hood, Little Lord Fauntleroy, and The Boy's Scout Book.
